Youths Parade At Nato Building

Another Anti-Government Riot Erupts In Istanbul

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — New antigovernment demonstrations erupted in Istanbul today. About 1,000 students and youths paraded before the building where NATO foreign ministers will meet Monday, shouting "Freedom!"

Defying a martial law ban on public gatherings, the students confronted thousands of troops who stood shoulder to shoulder in dusty heat outside the still unfinished NATO structure.

Tanks were drawn up at every approach. Helicopters swooped low overhead.

There were no clashes between demonstrators and troops, but tanks followed the marchers and gradually pushed them to side streets.

The procession, headed by youths carrying Turkish flags, marched down a wide street through which Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and other top NATO ministers were due to pass within a few hours.

The NATO foreign ministers were expected to land at Yvesilkoy Airport later this afternoon. Maximum security arrangements now in effect in Istanbul have caused grave traffic snarls throughout the city.

Earlier in the day, troops with fixed bayonets removed 2,000 student sit-down strikers from the campus of the University of Istanbu.

The students, who had staged an 18-hour demonstration against the government of Premier Adnan Menderes, were interned in army camps and charged with violating martial law regulations.

The Istanbul military commander declared in a communique "the students who did not heed the warnings aimed at bringing an end to recurring regrettable incidents and for the return of order will be temporarily detailed in camps to face legal proceedings for disobedience to martial law regulations, resistance to police and assault."

The regimental commander of the troops stationed around the university called on the students to come off the campus early this morning.

When they refused, infantry troops with bayonets fixed on rifles, entered the main gate of the campus and gradually forced the students into waiting army trucks.

There were 100 girls among the strikers.

The students appeared tired, hungry and drawn. Some chanted freedom slogans and sang patriotic songs.

Despite the collapse of the student demonstration at the university, about 100 other students defied martial law and appeared before the new municipal building where the NATO foreign ministers are meeting Monday. They picketed quietly for about 10 minutes and then dispersed.

Earlier, the commander of the forces surrounding the university indicated the troops would not try to drive out the sitdown strikers.

He said the students were free to come out any time they wanted to, explaining: "They are youths. We will give them beds, not bats."

Harassed by spreading riots, Menderes accused his political rivals of inciting the student demonstrations.

The tough premier extended martial law for three months in the nation's two main cities —Istanbul and Ankara.

Menderes' government strove desperately to stem the mounting tide of opposition as Turkey prepared to play host to U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other top diplomats at a NATO foreign ministers council session.

Invaders Hit Paraguay On Two Fronts

Fighting Reported, Casualties Inflicted On Invading Forces

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—Fighting was reported today against armed invaders seeking to overthrow the strongman government of Alfredo Stroessner.

The government said casualties had been inflicted on the rebels, who struck across the jungles from Argentina.

(Paraguayan sources in Argentina said several columns of Paraguayan exiles had launched invasions from Brazil as well as Argentina).

Paraguayan air force planes bombed the battleground on the upper reaches of the Parana River that forms the boundary between Paraguay and Argentina's Misiones province.

The rest of Paraguay was officially described as calm.

The rebels appeared in greater strength than an invasion force of about 1,000 men which was repulsed last December.

A communique said one insurgent band of about 500 men was beaten off Friday in attacking the tropical jungle town of Perto Carlos Antonio Lopez on the Parana River.

The Interior Ministry admitted the fall of the village of Colonia Otano, only 10 miles away, to 50 rebels but said the town was defended by only five policemen.

The Stroessner government charged that the invaders were equipped with Argentine weapons.

Civilian militiamen were reported to have joined local police in putting up a stiff fight when the invaders moved into southeastern Paraguay.

Long Ballots To Result In Late Returns

101 Seek Convention Posts, Along With Aspirants For Office

The paradox of a comparatively light vote and belated returns will mark the primary elections in Columbiana County Tuesday as Democrats and Republicans vote on separate tickets to choose candidates who will run against each other for state, district and county offices in the general election in November.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, predicted today the county's total vote will hit about 14,500 — including an estimated 8,500 Republicans and 6,000 Democrats.

In the last comparable election in 1956, the county cast 12,677 ballots, 8,842 Republicans and 3,825 Democratic. The 1958 primaries saw a turnout of 12,940, including 8,051 in the GOP and 4,889 on the Democratic side.

Candidate List Large

But despite the light vote, a huge list of candidates will slow tabulation of returns into an all-night job, an unusual experience for the County Election Board. The two tickets list a total of 101 candidates for delegate and alternate to the Republican and Democratic National Conventions, the meetings at which Presidential candidates will be chosen.

The list of candidates is swollen further by several wide-open races on both tickets for county offices.

Because of the order of count specificed by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, returns will be late on county offices and tax levies, which make up the lower half of the ticket. Returns will be tabulated first on contested delegate and alternate races and fights for nomination for statewide offices.

The second section of the count will cover district offices such as congressman and state senator and Both City Hall offices and Municipal Court will be closed all day Tuesday because of the primary election, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Judge Samuel M. Chertoff said today.

The polling place for Precinct 3-B is located in the municipal building's main corridor. The East Liverpool and Wellsville State Liquor Stores will be closed. Taverns also will be affected, as state law forbids sale of intoxicants until after the polls are closed.

Courthouse offices at Lisbon will close at noon.

Red Trawler 'Snooping' Off Long Island

Navy Sights Craft Within Mile Of New Missile Test Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy sighted a Soviet trawler Tuesday snooping around 60 miles off Long Island, within a mile of the spot where the new Polaris submarine George Washington was testing its missile launching apparatus.

The Navy said Friday the same ship, the Vega, was spotted the next day off Norfolk, Va., the home base of most of the Atlantic fleet.

There was nothing the Navy could do about it. In both cases the trawler was in international waters and had every legal right to stay there. The Navy continued its tests with the George Washington, which involved shooting dummy Polaris missiles from the sub to the surface.

Presumably the Vega was equipped with sonar, the underwater listening equipment fishermen now use to hunt schools of fish. It is just as effective in listening to submarines. The Navy knows the Soviet ship had radar, because it took photographs of it that showed the characteristic antennae.

In February 1959 a party from a Navy destroyer boarded another Soviet trawler off Newfoundland, after a series of breaks in transatlantic cables that might have been caused by the trawler's drags. This was done under an international law to protect undersea cables.

That Soviet ship was on fishing grounds widely used by fishing vessels from many nations. The Navy party saw nothing to indicate the ship was equipped for anything but trawling.

But the Vega, the Navy said, was in areas rarely used by foreign flag commercial fishermen. However, the area off Long Island often is used for maneuvers by submarines based at New London, Conn.

The Vega was photographed by a Navy blimp from Lakehurst, N.J., which was on patrol when the Soviet vessel was sighted.

Pottery Tariff Group To Fight Further Cuts

The Nationwide Committee on Import-Export Policy, an organization supported by both labor and management in the pottery industry, has called a meeting Thursday in Washington "to formulate plans to combat the State Department on further tariff reductions."

Announcing plans for the meeting, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters asked each of its local unions to pay the expenses of a representative to attend in a show of strength that will demonstrate how vital the tariff question is to pottery-producing communities.

Congressmen form eight states whose districts include ceramic plants have been invited to attend, including Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the 18th Ohio District and Rep. Arch W. Moore Jr. and Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey of West Virginia.

Political Foes Set For Debate Wednesday

CHARLESTON (AP) — Senators John F. Kennedy and Hubert Humphrey are going to sit together before a television audience next Wednesday night, answer questions and argue when they differ.

Their appearance together to debate will be the first thing of its kind since they have started campaigning for the Democratic nomination for president. It will come one day short of a week before the election in West Virginia which means so much to the hopes of both of them.

The place for the debate will be the studios of WCHS-TV in Charleston. Besides this station, four others in the state will carry it — WHIS-TV, Bluefield; WTRF-TV, Wheeling; WBOY - TV, Clarksburg; and WTAP-TV, Parkersburg.

The time will be from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m.

6 Of Weirton Hurt In Crash

Cars Collide Head-On At Frankfort Springs

Six Weirton residents en route to Hookstown were injured — apparetnly none seriously — in a two-car collision Friday at 7 p. m. at the intersection of Routes 18 and 168 at Frankfort Springs.

All were passengers in the auto of Mrs. Alma Warzynski, 21, that collided with another operated by Paul Edward Briggs, 31, of Clarendon, Pa. The Carnegie Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police investigated.

Police said the Weirton woman was hit almost head-on as she attempted a left turn onto Route 168. Both drivers were traveling in opposie directions on Route 18.

The Weirton woman suffered two small lacerations of the upper lip and contusions of the head and forearm. She and her five passengers were treated at the Weirton General Hospital and released.

The injured, besides Mrs. Warzynski, included Pamela Warzynski, 3, pains of the lower back; Mrs. Myrtle Pratt, 34, contusions of the left wrist, left arm and right forehead; James Pratt, 8, contusions and abrasions of the left leg and contusion of the forehead, Donna Pratt, 10, jaw injury, and Mrs. Ethel Williams, 31, contusion of right arm and shoulder blade injury.

Sen. Kennedy Levels Blast At Humphrey

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) suddenly turned on Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) Friday night and accused Humphrey of having "distorted my record, attacked my integrity and played fast and loose with smears and innuendos."

The two are turning into the home stretch of the campaign for the May 10 primary election. Although the primary does not bind the state's delegates to the Democratic National Convention, each candidate said at the start that if he couldn't win in West Virginia, he could not expect a strong showing at the convention next July.

Humphrey's initial reaction was one of humor.

"Keep your shirt on, Jack," he teased. "Maintain a sense of humor and don't expect to win them all."

Kennedy's blast was in a statement issued by his brother, Robert Kennedy, who has taken personal charge of the senator's Charleston headquarters.

A short time after Humphrey quipped his first rebuttal, he became more serious.

"I don't know what he (Kennedy) wants except that I endorse him, and I'm not going to do that," he said on a radio interview while campaigning in the Logan area of southern West Virginia.

Another rival for the Democratic nomination, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, will speak in the state three days before the primary. He will address a Jackson-Jefferson dinner in Clarksburg May 7.

Nine senators, including Sen. Robert C. Byrd (D-WVa), will accompany Johnson. Byrd has urged Johnson supporters in West Virginia to vote for Humphrey in the primary as a way of stopping Kennedy. Johnson's name is not on the ballot.

Another Democratic candidate, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, toured the West seeking votes.

Chessman's Attorneys Set Last Strategy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman's attorneys today prepared last-ditch legal strategy aimed at saving the calm, hawk-nosed convict author from San Quentin's green gas chamber Monday.

George T. Davis planned a new application for a writ of habeas corpus which he said would raise questions of federal due process. He asked William I. Sullivan, clerk of the State Supreme Court, to be on hand at noon today to accept it for filing.

The condemned Los Angeles red light bandit's petition for a clemency recommendation was denied by the court Friday for the third time, 4-3, after an unusual late-day session of two hours, 40 minutes.

At San Quentin, Warden Fred Dickson arranged a last news conference for Chessman at 10 a. m. —48 hours before the six-foot convict's ninth date with death in the octagonal chamber.

Despite the chins-up statement by his attorneys, it appeared the 38-year-old self-taught writer was approaching the end of his nearly 12 years on death row. Chessman will be 39 on May 27, if he lives.

He accepted calmly the news of the court's action. After inquiring about the vote, he told a guard lieutenant: "Thank you very much."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in Oakland for the garden show reception, telephoned his Sacramento to office and issued this statement: "This means my hands are still completely tied. I am powerless to take any action."

2 Gas Unions Vote Midnight Strike In Area

Eastern Ohio And Panhandle Utilities Now Face Walkouts

Employes of district gas utilities on both sides of the Ohio River have voted to go on strike tonight to enforce contract demands.

Employes of East Liverpool Local 13656 intend to strike the Ohio Valley Gas Co. in a new contract dispute.

Contract negotiations ended in a deadlock Friday following talks in the Fort Steuben Hotel in Steubenville.

Steubenville employes were to ballot on a strike this morning at 10. At earlier negotiations, the union agreed to call in a federal mediator to help iron out the dispute.

East Liverpool's local is affiliated with District 50, United Mine Workers, which also represents gas employes in Western Pennsylvania.

The contract expires at midnight tonight. The workers affect-

DJ Dick Clark Ordered For More Probing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dick Clark, who swears he has never pocketed payola, has been ordered to return for more questioning Monday by House investigators.

"He still has a lot of explaining to do," Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich) said after four hours of testimony Friday by the young television disc jockey who has a large following among teenagers.

"The testimony shows that Dick Clark, by his own admission, was wringing every dollar out of his position," said Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif).

In his testimony, Clark confirmed reports that he and his wife had accepted a fur stole and jewelry worth $4,400 from Lou Bedell, who makes Era and Dore records. He said the gifts were accepted reluctantly and that he insisted Bedell take a $300 check from him when Bedell gave Mrs. Clark the stole. Clark said "we are both embarrassed."

But Clark testified he never accepted a thing from anyone with the understanding that he would favor the benefactor's music on his shows.

State Senate Contest Faced By Democrats

Nomination For New Post Sought By 4 In 20th-22nd District

A four-way Democratic race for nomination for a second seat in the State Senate will highlight the district races Columbiana County voters will help decide Tuesday as part of the 18th Congressional District and the 20th-22nd State Senatorial District.

The two parties also will nominate unopposed candidates for U. S. congressman, elect members of their state central committees and mark their ballots for unopposed district delegations to the Republican and Democratic national conventions, at which Presidential candidates will be chosen.

A second state senate seat will be open in the district comprised of Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont and Harrison Counties because of periodic reapportionment that occurs about once in 10 years.

The Democratic candidates are: John Taylor of Salem, printer, publisher and former state senator; Atty. Edmund A. Sargus of St. Clairsville, who practices law in Bellaire; Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, Jefferson County Democratic chairman, and Durward H. Stewart of Brilliant, a steelworker.

Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry, the veteran Democratic incumbent, will remain in office for 2 more years of a 4-year term.

Republicans have a lone candidate for the state senate nomin-

Part Of Millage Is Renewal

School Levies To Face City Voters

East Liverpool school district residents will vote on 3 levies totaling 12 mills which would provide $570,000 for operation of the schools when they cast ballots at Tuesday's primary.

The Board of Education is asking renewal of an 8-mill levy and approval of new 2 levies totaling 4 mills. One levy for 3 mills would be used for general operating expenses, such as salaries, educational equipment, educational supplies, textbooks, library books and other equipment, and the 1-mill levy would be earmarked specifically for repair and maintenance of buildings.

THE THREE LEVIES, which would run for five years, will appear on a single sheet of paper but each must be voted separately. The renewal, by state law, must appear last.

In their campaign, board members point out the school district has one of the lowest tax rates for school purposes in Columbiana County. They explain the tax rate on city schools is 18.8 mills, compared to 29.5 for Salem, 26.1 for Beaver Local, 25.2 for Lisbon, 23.3 for Wellsville, 22.6 for Leetonia and 20.6 for East Palestine.

Pointing out only one request for a tax increase has been sought since 1951, board members said passage of the additional 4 mills would increase taxes on a home valued at $4,000 on the tax duplicate by $16 a year or $1.33 a month or 41/3 cents a day. Renewal of the 8-mill levy would not increase taxes.

THE DISTRICT NOW is paying only 47 per cent of the operating budget at present with the remainder being returned to the district through the state's school foundation program.

Board members point out only 5 of 52 cities in Ohio, all with smaller populations, spend less per child for operating schools than East Liverpool.

For the term ending June, 1958, the last year for which statewide figures are available, East Liverpool spent almost $250 per child per year for school operations.

The highest expenditure in the group was $560 and the average was $313, board members explain.

Board members term renewal of the 8-mill levy "a must" if the district is to maintain the funds now available for operating schools.

If the levy is defeated, the district will lose not only the income from the levy, which is $380,000, but an additional $805,630 in state aid.

THE TOTAL loss would by $1,185,630 or 78 per cent of the board's operating budget, members point out.

A school district must levy at least 10 mills for operating costs to participate in the foundation program. Without renewal of the 8 mills, the district will not meet the requirement.

The two combined levies would yield approximately $190,000 and allow increases in the various accounts and permit the addition of two speech and hearing therapists and a psychologist to the staff, add-

'Nasty' Weekend Due With Windy And Colder

If you had planned golf or gardening for the weekend, forget it — the weather will be more appropriate for the fireside.

The weather has been gradually cooling the past few days and will turn nasty with showers today and tonight and occasional thunderstorms.

Sunday will be cloudy, windy and colder but showers will end. Temperatures will range between 45 and 50 tonight. The high for today will be 65 to 70.

Porter's Brick Plants Will Resume Monday

A week's shutdown caused by reduced steel mill operating rates will be ended next week at four ladle brick plants of the Refractories Division of the H. K. Porter Co., Inc., in the Wellsville area, the company announced today in Pittsburgh.

Some 279 employes affected by the layoffs at four McLain Works plants will be recalled, the company said. Most will report Monday with others returning during next week, the company said.

The affected plants included the Buckeye and Champion Works in Wellsville, Colonial Works at Hammondsville and Irondale Works at Irondale.

The company said production levels at these plants are geared to steelmill customers who use the refractory brick in steel pouring operations. Reduced operating rates in various steel districts made the week-long shutdown necessary, the company said.

Sen. Kennedy Levels Blast At Humphrey

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) suddenly turned on Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) Friday night and accused Humphrey of having "distorted my record, attacked my integrity and played fast and loose with smears and innuendos."

The two are turning into the home stretch of the campaign for the May 10 primary election. Although the primary does not bind the state's delegates to the Democratic National Convention, each candidate said at the start that if he couldn't win in West Virginia, he could not expect a strong showing at the convention next July.

Humphrey's initial reaction was one of humor.

"Keep your shirt on, Jack," he teased. "Maintain a sense of humor and don't expect to win them all."

Kennedy's blast was in a statement issued by his brother, Robert Kennedy, who has taken personal charge of the senator's Charleston headquarters.

A short time after Humphrey quipped his first rebuttal, he became more serious.

"I don't know what he (Kennedy) wants except that I endorse him, and I'm not going to do that," he said on a radio interview while campaigning in the Logan area of southern West Virginia.

Another rival for the Democratic nomination, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, will speak in the state three days before the primary. He will address a Jackson-Jefferson dinner in Clarksburg May 7.

Nine senators, including Sen. Robert C. Byrd (D-WVa), will accompany Johnson. Byrd has urged Johnson supporters in West Virginia to vote for Humphrey in the primary as a way of stopping Kennedy. Johnson's name is not on the ballot.

Another Democratic candidate, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, toured the West seeking votes.

Chessman's Attorneys Set Last Strategy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman's attorneys today prepared last-ditch legal strategy aimed at saving the calm, hawk-nosed convict author from San Quentin's green gas chamber Monday.

George T. Davis planned a new application for a writ of habeas corpus which he said would raise questions of federal due process. He asked William I. Sullivan, clerk of the State Supreme Court, to be on hand at noon today to accept it for filing.

The condemned Los Angeles red light bandit's petition for a clemency recommendation was denied by the court Friday for the third time, 4-3, after an unusual late-day session of two hours, 40 minutes.

At San Quentin, Warden Fred Dickson arranged a last news conference for Chessman at 10 a. m. —48 hours before the six-foot convict's ninth date with death in the octagonal chamber.

Despite the chins-up statement by his attorneys, it appeared the 38-year-old self-taught writer was approaching the end of his nearly 12 years on death row. Chessman will be 39 on May 27, if he lives.

He accepted calmly the news of the court's action. After inquiring about the vote, he told a guard lieutenant: "Thank you very much."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in Oakland for the garden show reception, telephoned his Sacramento office and issued this statement: "This means my hands are still completely tied. I am powerless to take any action."

2 Gas Unions Vote Midnight Strike In Area

Eastern Ohio And Panhandle Utilities Now Face Walkouts

Employes of district gas utilities on both sides of the Ohio River have voted to go on strike tonight to enforce contract demands.

Employes of East Liverpool Local 13656 intend to strike the Ohio Valley Gas Co. in a new contract dispute.

Contract negotiations ended in a deadlock Friday following talks in the Fort Steuben Hotel in Steubenville.

Steubenville employes were to ballot on a strike this morning at 10. At earlier negotiations, the union agreed to call in a federal mediator to help iron out the dispute.

East Liverpool's local is affiliated with District 50, United Mine Workers, which also represents gas employes in Western Pennsylvania.

DJ Dick Clark Ordered For More Probing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dick Clark, who swears he has never pocketed payola, has been ordered to return for more questioning Monday by House investigators.

"He still has a lot of explaining to do," Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich) said after four hours of testimony Friday by the young television disc jockey who has a large following among teenagers.

"The testimony shows that Dick Clark, by his own admission, was wringing every dollar out of his position," said Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif).

In his testimony, Clark confirmed reports that he and his wife had accepted a fur stole and jewelry worth $4,400 from Lou Bedell, who makes Era and Dore records. He said the gifts were accepted reluctantly and that he insisted Bedell take a $300 check from him when Bedell gave Mrs. Clark the stole. Clark said "we are both embarrassed."

But Clark testified he never accepted a thing from anyone with the understanding that he would favor the benefactor's music on his shows.

Nomination For New Post Sought By 4 In 20th-22nd District

A four-way Democratic race for nomination for a second seat in the State Senate will highlight the district races Columbiana County voters will help decide Tuesday as part of the 18th Congressional District and the 20th-22nd State Senatorial District.

The two parties also will nominate unopposed candidates for U. S. congressman, elect members of their state central committees and mark their ballots for unopposed district delegations to the Republican and Democratic national conventions, at which Presidential candidates will be chosen.

A second state senate seat will be open in the district comprised of Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont and Harrison Counties because of periodic reapportionment that occurs about once in 10 years.

The Democratic candidates are: John Taylor of Salem, printer, publisher and former state senator; Atty. Edmund A. Sargus of St. Clairsville, who practices law in Bellaire; Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, Jefferson County Democratic chairman, and Durward H. Stewart of Brilliant, a steelworker.

Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry, the veteran Democratic incumbent, will remain in office for 2 more years of a 4-year term.

Republicans have a lone candidate for the state senate nomin-

Part Of Millage Is Renewal

School Levies To Face City Voters

East Liverpool school district residents will vote on 3 levies totaling 12 mills which would provide $570,000 for operation of the schools when they cast ballots at Tuesday's primary.

The Board of Education is asking renewal of an 8-mill levy and approval of new 2 levies totaling 4 mills. One levy for 3 mills would be used for general operating expenses, such as salaries, educational equipment, educational supplies, textbooks, library books and other equipment, and the 1-mill levy would be earmarked specifically for repair and maintenance of buildings.

THE THREE LEVIES, which would run for five years, will appear on a single sheet of paper but each must be voted separately. The renewal, by state law, must appear last.

In their campaign, board members point out the school district has one of the lowest tax rates for school purposes in Columbiana County. They explain the tax rate on city schools is 18.8 mills, compared to 29.5 for Salem, 26.1 for Beaver Local, 25.2 for Lisbon, 23.3 for Wellsville, 22.6 for Leetonia and 20.6 for East Palestine.

Pointing out only one request for a tax increase has been sought since 1951, board members said passage of the additional 4 mills would increase taxes on a home valued at $4,000 on the tax duplicate by $16 a year or $1.33 a month or 41/3 cents a day. Renewal of the 8-mill levy would not increase taxes.

THE DISTRICT NOW is paying only 47 per cent of the operating budget at present with the remainder being returned to the district through the state's school foundation program.

Board members point out only 5 of 52 cities in Ohio, all with smaller populations, spend less per child for operating schools than East Liverpool.

For the term ending June, 1958, the last year for which statewide figures are available, East Liverpool spent almost $250 per child per year for school operations.

The highest expenditure in the group was $560 and the average was $313, board members explain.

Board members term renewal of the 8-mill levy "a must" if the district is to maintain the funds now available for operating schools.

If the levy is defeated, the district will lose not only the income from the levy, which is $380,000, but an additional $805,630 in state aid.

THE TOTAL loss would by $1,185,630 or 78 per cent of the board's operating budget, members point out.

A school district must levy at least 10 mills for operating costs to participate in the foundation program. Without renewal of the 8 mills, the district will not meet the requirement.

The two combined levies would yield approximately $190,000 and allow increases in the various accounts and permit the addition of two speech and hearing therapists and a psychologist to the staff, add-

Porter's Brick Plants Will Resume Monday

A week's shutdown caused by reduced steel mill operating rates will be ended next week at four ladle brick plants of the Refractories Division of the H. K. Porter Co., Inc., in the Wellsville area, the company announced today in Pittsburgh.

Some 279 employes affected by the layoffs at four McLain Works plants will be recalled, the company said. Most will report Monday with others returning during next week, the company said.

The affected plants included the Buckeye and Champion Works in Wellsville, Colonial Works at Hammondsville and Irondale Works at Irondale.

The company said production levels at these plants are geared to steelmill customers who use the refractory brick in steel pouring operations. Reduced operating rates in various steel districts made the week-long shutdown necessary, the company said.

Library Stocks 2 New Books By Sen. Kennedy And Brother

Current names in the headlines are well represented in best sellers now to be found at the Carnegie Public Library.

Both Sen. John Kennedy and his brother, Robert, have new books which explain their attitudes on current questions, Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said. "The Strategy of Peace" is the senator's speeches which he has made on foreign policy and national security.

Allan Nevins, the editor, has also included certain public discussions on TV in which he has participated. His crusading younger brother is represented with his expose of racketeering in labor unions with "The Enemy Within."

A trio of the new biographies covers former headliners: "Dr. Goebbels, His Life and Death," by Roger Manzel; "D'Annunzi," the poet as superman by Anthony Rhodes, and Elswyth Thane's life of Martha Washington, entitled "Washington's Lady."

Due to the increasing local interest in the use of hypnosis in place of anaesthetics, Alan Mitchell's book, "The Healing Trance," will be stimulating. The author is a London correspondent for New Zealand newspapers.

A former editor of the Saturday Review of Literature, Peter Ritner, has returned from a two-year study of Africa convinced that only the United States can solve the problems of the Dark Continent. He poses his contentions in the new book, "The Death of Africa."

Fortunately Nevil Shute left an unpublished novel before his untimely death last year. The author of "On the Beach" searches for buried jewels through the medium of Keith Stewart, mechanical model builder. The usual twist makes for a compelling plot. The title, "Trustee In the Tool Room."

For teen-age consumption the library recommends Milton Lesser's new science fiction tale, "Stadium Beyond the Stars," Marjory Hall's "Hatbox for Mimi" and Viola Rowe's "Promise to Love."

BETTIS For State Representative

Mr. and Mrs. Republican Voter:

When you vote in the primaries you will find you have two candidates to nominate for the office of State Representative.

Naturally, you want to nominate the two best men to represent you.

We sincerely believe that J. WARREN BETTIS should be one of your nominees.

1. He has served you as a member of the Columbiana County Board of Education.
2. He is a past District Governor of Ruritan.
3. He is City Solicitor for Salineville, Hanoverton and Summitville.
4. He is presently serving you as Assistant County Prosecutor of Columbiana County.
5. He is a veteran of World War II, and holds a purple heart award and a presidential unit citation for that service.
6. He represents Columbiana County in the Juvenile Court.
7. Washington Township Clerk for past 7 years.

His record speaks very clearly as you can see. He understands the problems facing Columbiana County and knows the type of legislation necessary to deal with them. His background demonstrates his knowledge of laws and law enforcement for farms, cities and the County itself.

Those of you who have had the opportunity to see him in action know that he gives 100% of his effort and ability at whatever he undertakes.

Don't be misled by some of the claims which other candidates have made. Seniority on committees in the General Assembly is only granted to members having CONTINUOUS service. No matter how many years a man has previously served, unless it is continuous, his committee assignments are made on the same basis as an entirely new member.

Mr. Bettis does not claim or promise that he knows the answer to all your problems. He does not claim he has an "in" with the present Democrat state administration. He does promise, however, that he will use all of his ability to try to solve the problems of the people he represents in the Assembly—that as your Representative in the General Assembly, he will give you 100% of his effort.

For these reasons we strongly urge you to vote for J. WARREN BETTIS for the Republican nomination for State Representative on May 3.

BETTIS For State Representative

Mr. and Mrs. Republican Voter:

When you vote in the primaries you will find you have two candidates to nominate for the office of State Representative.

Naturally, you want to nominate the two best men to represent you.

We sincerely believe that J. WARREN BETTIS should be one of your nominees.

1. He has served you as a member of the Columbiana County Board of Education.
2. He is a past District Governor of Ruritan.
3. He is City Solicitor for Salineville, Hanoverton and Summitville.
4. He is presently serving you as Assistant County Prosecutor of Columbiana County.
5. He is a veteran of World War II, and holds a purple heart award and a presidential unit citation for that service.
6. He represents Columbiana County in the Juvenile Court.
7. Washington Township Clerk for past 7 years.

His record speaks very clearly as you can see. He understands the problems facing Columbiana County and knows the type of legislation necessary to deal with them. His background demonstrates his knowledge of laws and law enforcement for farms, cities and the County itself.

Those of you who have had the opportunity to see him in action know that he gives 100% of his effort and ability at whatever he undertakes.

Don't be misled by some of the claims which other candidates have made. Seniority on committees in the General Assembly is only granted to members having CONTINUOUS service. No matter how many years a man has previously served, unless it is continuous, his committee assignments are made on the same basis as an entirely new member.

Mr. Bettis does not claim or promise that he knows the answer to all your problems. He does not claim he has an "in" with the present Democrat state administration. He does promise, however, that he will use all of his ability to try to solve the problems of the people he represents in the Assembly—that as your Representative in the General Assembly, he will give you 100% of his effort.

For these reasons we strongly urge you to vote for J. WARREN BETTIS for the Republican nomination for State Representative on May 3.

City Census Figures Delayed Second Time

Unofficial figures on East Liverpool's population in the 1960 census won't be available until the middle of next week, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet was told Friday.

The mayor was notified yesterday by Howard Borden of Steubenville, district census supervisor, of the new delay in releasing the figures. The final figures first were expected to be released last weekend but completion of the tally was delayed awaiting additional returns. Borden then told the mayor the figures were expected to be available yesterday.

The district office is permitted to notify county commissioners and mayors of any communities over 10,000 of the totals when the count on Columbiana County is completed, Borden told the mayor last week.

Faces Jail Term

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ben R. Westhafer, 43, former manager of a Central Trust Co. branch, faces one year and a day in federal prison on his plea of guilty to charges he embezzled $17,668. Judge John Druffel set the term in U.S. District Court Friday after hearing that the money had been paid back.

Citywide Cleanup Phase

Lions To Open Broom Sale Monday

The Lions Club will launch its three-day broom sale Monday night as the citywide trash cleanup campaign begins.

At the club's meeting Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel, Herman urged members to meet at 6 p. m. Monday to begin the sale. Proceeds will go to the club's sight-saving fund.

The Board of Directors will meet at Tice's Restaurant following the sale Monday night.

Herman, who also was ticket chairman of the club's minstrel show, said gross receipts totaled approximately $600. Victor C. Smith, president, presided.

The program was the showing of a color film, "As the Twig Is Bent," made available to The Review by the International Circulation Managers Association, and telling of a newspaper's contributions in behalf of their carrier salesmen.

The film points out newspapers offer boys excellent training for adult responsibilities. Carriers learn to sell themselves, learn courtesy, a sense of responsibility and basic fundamentals of business.

In addition to earning money, carriers receive recognition for sales achievements through trips and prizes, the film pointed out.

Donald Baxter was program chairman and Joe Burcham, assistant circulation manager of The Review, introduced the film.

Teach Child Not To Throw Things

Without being taught to throw things, the youngster under two or three learns to do so. When, at a year or 15 months of age, the child tries to throw a rubber ball, it may not leave his hand. Gradually, he has to learn to release his fingers and does so without being taught.

The youngster By Garry Meyer.

under two may throw all his toys from his playpen. If you immediately put back the toys he has thrown out he may greatly enjoy the activity. But if you wait for short, then longer, periods to put them back, he chooses by and by not to throw them out. Early in the tot's development comes the time when he will throw a ball or block indoors hard and far enough to harm some furniture. By spending ample time with him, you may induce him to push or roll the object instead of throwing it, often saying "This way," as you show him. But there may come a time when you should say No.

AS HE IS about to throw an object, even accompany this No with a sharp slap on his hand or thigh if this quiet word is ignored. Early and continually hold yourself to saying No quietly, never with a sharp, shrieking voice.

Use your hand if necessary to make the No final and meaningful. Reserve your voice for tenderness and affection.

If your tot deliberately throws objects at things or persons, be effectively decisive with No.

Outdoors, he may find it great fun to throw objects at a parked or passing car. Seeing him do this once, let everything go in order to correct this practice permanently. Make sure he always gets instant physical pain for each offense.

On the other hand, you can go with him to a safe place and let him throw to his heart's content at a provided target, which might be an old can or a box.

ALWAYS BE decisive in forbidding him to throw objects at a person or animal. Persist in this training as he grows older, forbidding him to fight with sticks and stones, even in self-defense. Let him learn to retreat if he can't defend himself with his bare hands.

It is very important, too, that you train him early and constantly not to deliberately strike a pet or person by holding an object in his hand. This problem may arise as he begins to use tools, such as a hammer.

Some patient parents may be able to achieve in these directions merely by inceasing vigilance and persuasion, though the effective use of No, supported by physical pain, may at times be also desirable.

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "Letting Baby and Tot Learn," may he had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Primary Recommendations

Forty - six candidates will be contesting for 12 Columbiana County offices on the Republican and Democratic tickets in Tuesday's primary.

Each party will nominate two for state representative, two for county commissioner and one each for sheriff, recorder, probate judge, clerk of courts, prosecuting attorney, treasurer, engineer and coroner.

The Review offers the following recommendations with the hope that the strongest possible tickets will emerge for the general election next fall:

State Representative

Republican — Clarence L. (Dutch) Wetzel of Lisbon, seeking a sixth term, has received our support in the past and there seems no reason for a change now. He has served the district well at Columbus. Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara of Wellsville and J. Warren Bettis of Salineville are deserving of the most serious consideration for the other representative post. Mr. O'Hara has experience on his side, having served two consecutive terms in the assembly from 1951 to 1955. Mr. Bettis, assistant prosecuting attorney, is seeking the post for the first time. He has performed capably in various capacities and there is every reason to believe he would be a hard - working state representative.

Democratic — John H. Todd, former mayor of Lisbon, and Benjamin Barrett of Salem loom as the outstanding candidates.

Mr. Todd has proven a dependable public servant and his administration was a creditable one.

Mr. Barrett, a teacher at Salem High School and a former football coach, over the years has displayed an intense interest in good government.

Commissioner

Republican — Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine, the incumbent, and Galen H. Greenisen of Salem R. D. 3, who formerly served eight years as commissioner, are the choices. Mr. Hunston has served the county as a whole well and has cooperated with both this and previous city administrations here. Mr. Greenisen falls into the same category.

William Y. Orr of East Liverpool, a former city councilman, who also is among those seeking the post, did a competent job as a legislator here and without doubt would be a conscientious commissioner. Their previous experience and records, however, make Mr. Hunston and Mr. Greenisen the more logical selections.

Democratic — R. Max Gard of near Lisbon, the incumbent, and Robert Barnett of near Beloit merit the nominations.

Mr. Gard has measured up to the responsibilities of commissioner during his present term. Mr. Barnett, an established turkey and dairy farmer, appears to have the business ability and sound judgment that go well with the position.

Recorder

Republican — Two East Liverpool residents, Richard G. Brian and Robert W. Sample Jr., are contesting for the nomination along with Richard T. Mason of Lisbon.

Mr. Mason's broader experience gives him the edge. He is Center Township clerk and former superintendent of the R. Thomas & Sons Co. in Lisbon.

Democratic — John E. Graham of Wellsville, a deputy in County Auditor Kenneth Bell's office, is the choice.

Sheriff

Republican — Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan of East Palestine is unopposed for nomination to a second term.

Democratic — Albert E. Kittridge of East Liverpool, in our opinion, is the best qualified among the five seeking the nomination. He now is a safety engineer for a transportation insurance company and was a member of the East Liverpool police force for 14 years.

There are no contests for the other offices mentioned earlier.

John Taylor For State Senate

There are four candidates contesting on the Democratic ticket for a second seat in the Ohio Senate made possible because of periodic apportionment.

They are John Taylor of Salem, Atty. Edmund A. Sargus of St. Clairsville, Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville and Durward H. Stewart of Brilliant.

Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers is unopposed on the Republican ticket.

The term is for two years, with representation for the 20th-22nd District, which is made up of Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont and Harrison counties.

Sen. Arthur Blake, the incumbent, has two more years of a four-year term to serve. He is from Martins Ferry in Belmont County.

With the feeling that this part of the district deserves representation and confident that he can do the job, The Review endorses Mr. Taylor for the post.

He has served one term in the Senate—1937-38 — and has other experience in state government. He was nominated for lieutenant governor in 1956, but was defeated in the general election. He served four years on the Ohio commission for interstate cooperation of the Council of State Governments and three years as vice chairman of the commission on reorganization of the executive branch of Ohio's government.

Mr. Taylor, a printer and publisher, has a statewide reputation for political integrity and has been a longtime student of government and parliamentary law.

There is no race for 18th District congressman, Walter J. Hunston of Salem and Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, the incumbent, being unopposed on the Republican and Democratic tickets, respectively.

Loyalty And Law Days

Tomorrow will be "L Day" in the district.

At East Palestine, a number of veterans' groups from the area will take part in a "Loyalty Day" event, a patriotic parade and program calling for renewed pledges of faith in the American ideals and way of life.

Sunday also will mark "Law Day," noting the dependence of democracy upon an orderly set of law and justice rather than rule by force.

These observances are designed in part to show the sharp contrast with the traditional Soviet May Day ceremonies which extol the virtues of Communism and permit a flexing of military muscles for the world's attention.

Americans have become a little self-conscious about patriotism in recent years, chiefly because of some of the disillusioning aspects of two major wars and a "police action."

But these local programs concerning our fundamental law and the citizen's obligations to his nation help to remind us of the heritage and duties we have as Americans, besides the many benefits we enjoy.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Group sponsored by the Ford Foundation says TV education has spread by leaps and bounds and predicts it will become such a factor in teaching that the Little Red Schoolhouse will have to be redesigned for wonders of electronics.

Video tape recordings will be obtainable at a low price within a few years, it says, and classrooms of tomorrow will be clustered around video lecture halls. But we still feel the kids won't fight their way into schools until the teacher rides a cowpony and shows them how to make a fast draw and shoot low marks out of report card.

The big problem for teacher may be how to handle moppets who demand, "Aw, tune out of this arithmetic program and let's see what's new in Dodge City and Boot Hill."

Pictures have always fasinated the young and helped them concentrate on history lessons. The book sketch of Custer's Last Fight never gripped them the way TV can with Indians in action.

The spelling lessons may be given a long awaited appeal if there is a Shotgun Slade interval between difficult words. There might even be big advantages in a grammar lesson "in color."

Arithmetic annoys most kids but it could hold them if the outlaw cattle thief could be shown meeting his end at hands of the town marshal who was best mathematician in the old West. TV in lower grades would wow the pupils.

"Willie, it's time to go to school" has no appeal. But suppose mommer could hand the kid a "Schoolhouse Guide" advertising "Don't miss today's spelling spectacular!" — "See the five-star multiplication table special" and "Your schoolhouse offers 'The Three R's with Red Skelton, Hugh O'Brien, Whirlybirds and Bozo the Clown.'"

"How was school today?" mother will ask. "Pretty good. But there was too much static in the 'Startime Grammar Show' and one of the tubes went wrong during the late, late spelling lesson," can be the answer.

REMEMBER AWAY BACK when a public official didn't think it proof of financial genius if he got out of every hole by another tax on cigarettes and gasoline?

Charges of profiteering have given drug manufacturers a headache. But you would think they, of all people, could produce a cure for it.

Oh, tycoons pharmaceutical
I'm sore down to each cuticle:
Why must each pill I buy and take
Give me an economic ache?

Charlie Chaplin's name has been scratched from the Hollywood list of 1,000 great movie stars. It's hard to defend Charlie for his political views and contempt for America, where he found fame and fortune but to omit him from the ranks of great picture stars is silly. His feet, cane, derby and mustache will always eclipse his private behavior.

"Holiday On Ice," American export in cultural exchange, got a big reception in Africa where temperature is around 108. It message to the world is hard to dig. Maybe it's American way of saying, "Threats, atomic bombs and war clouds would disappear if we would all go skating."

New York has tighter laws on drunken driving with $500 fine and 30 days for first offender. But in modern traffic scene how do you tell a blotto driver from a sober one?

REMEMBER AWAY BACK when it was not uncommon to see an old and battered auto on an American highway? A few years ago one in every ten seemed to have at least one window busted, a door handle missing and all the gloss long gone. Today you can make money betting you won't see a shabby auto more than twice in a 300-mile tour.

Despite its expressed desire to give more time to matters of importance, TV seems to be going the other way fast. Amazed fans are still discussing the failure to cover De Gaulle in Washington and New York welcomes except in snatches for brief spot in the news programs.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

Louis Braille lost his eyesight in a childhood accident in 1812. Entering a school for the blind in Paris, he learned his alphabet from wooden letters. Then he "read" large letters impressed on paper but was impatient with a system that required hours to understand one paragraph.

Next, Braille studied music and at 14 became organist for the Church of St. Anne. There he thought of joining the blind friars, but the Canon said, "God may have great plans for you . . . Pray to Him . . . He will show you the way." Louis became one of the great organists of Europe. Yet, he was lonely, could not resign himself to blindness, and was heard to cry out, "Dear God, restore my sight . . . and I'll dedicate my life to helping my blind brothers."

Though he did not gain his sight, but instead was stricken with tuberculosis, Louis helped his blind brothers. After learning of an army captain's system of night writing, he spent days and nights for years perfecting a touch system. Today, the blind read and write in Braille, play instruments from Braille music-scores, learn geography from Braille maps, put Braille labels on canned goods and operate office machines through his system.

Hoffa Asks Aid For Convicted 9

By Victor Riesel

LOS ANGELES — Security intelligence forces of two nations have been concerned over the activities of one union which sits astride the mining of scarce nickel needed for tubing in hydrogen bomb installations. This union covers strategic heavy water plants, uranium mining and refining and vital copper mining.

Victor Riesel

Nine leaders of this union, the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, have been convicted of conspiring with Communist party officials to defraud and deceive the government of the United States.

It is this union which James R. Hoffa has befriended. It is this band of convicted conspirators whom he and his colleagues in the Teamsters high command have decided to help.

It is this group of men accused by the government of being Communist party members for which the Teamsters top council has been raising funds.

I have before me a copy of a letter written by Jim Hoffa on official Teamsters stationery proving all this. The letter refers to the convicted men as "our brother trade unionists."

THIS LETTER was written to Mine - Mill president John Clark. Copies of it were then sent to most of the leaders of the Teamsters' 900 locals.

Accompanying each copy of the Hoffa letter to Clark was a covering note from the Teamster president to his lieutenants across the land.

In it he urged that monetary aid be sent for the financing of an appeal of the nine sentences which were handed down March 14. Seven of the men were ordered to jail for three years. Two were handed 18 months' terms.

These men were convicted, among other things, of conspiring with four Communist party officials, "to dominate and control and continue to dominate and control the affairs and policies of said union (the Mine-Mill)."

These men, who had in their hands so powerful a union, were convicted of conspiring to "pretend to resign from their membership in the Communist party and pretend to terminate their affiliation with said party but would in fact continue their membership in and affiliation with same."

IN HOFFA'S LETTER to the Mine - Mill Union president, the Teamsters chief sees these convictions as an attack on all labor. Specifically he says:

"At the last . . . board meeting of the . . . Teamsters, General Secretary - Treasurer John F. English and I were authorized to extend financial aid and support to your organization, the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, on behalf of nine leaders of that union whose recent conviction is now on appeal.

"These nine men were convicted on a charge of conspiracy to violate the now defunct oath sections of the Taft-Hartley law.

"The outcome of this appeal is of vital importance to the entire trade union movement. The question of the truth or falsity of the affidavits formerly required under Taft-Hartley, but no longer required under the new Kennedy - Landrum - Griffin law, is not an issue in any sense in our decision to lend assistance to our brother trade unionists."

WHAT HOFFA refers to here is the law which required labor leaders to sign affidavits that they were not Communists. This was wiped out on Sept. 14, 1959. The Mine-Mill officials were indicted on Nov. 16, 1956 — almost three years earlier.

What particularly disturbs Hoffa is that the nine were convicted of conspiring to defraud the government rather than for actually committing the fraud.

"We feel that it is of vital importance that we lend our aid to make sure that trade unionists are fully protected against the abuses that grow out of the use of conspiracy charges by the government. We wish you success. Fraternally yours, James R. Hoffa," the letter concludes.

Who, then, will protect the government of these United States? Or is that a silly question to ask in some quarters?

U.S. In Miniature

By Jim Doyle

Beginning in June, if you get tired of San Francisco's exotic Chinatown, you can stroll over to Chicago and help put the fire out, or take a quick paddle - wheel steamboat ride through the Great Lakes that is guaranteed to get you back in time for dinner.

This sort of thing will become possible, at least figuratively, on June 19. That's when Freedomland, the East Coast's answer to Disneyland, opens in New York.

Freedomland is a 65-million-dollar amusement area rapidly nearing completion in New York City. It will duplicate, in miniature but in authentic detail, 16 historic areas of the United States. It will have 41 separate exhibits and more than 30 rides ranging from stagecoaches to a space shop that will take you around the world in six minutes.

THE HUGE PROJECT, being built on a site shaped like the United States, represents a new concept in mass entertainment, a trend away from the Coney Island type of amusement park, with its thrill rides, games of chance and carnival shows.

It is the brain child of a young Texan, C. V. Wood, who pioneered the idea in Disneyland, and of Ted Raynor, a Chicago lawyer.

"We feel that people expect a little more than hot dogs and roller coasters these days," says Raynor, who is president of the Freedomland Co. "We decided on a unified show built around a theme.

"We chose American history, or Americana, if you wish, from more than 200 suggested themes because of the growing interest in the subject.

"But we didn't want to build a huge museum. The whole idea is amusement. It's educational, but primarily it's a place for the family to have fun."

There won't be any rollercoasters but there will be rides. You can get shot at by Indians on a trip through the Pacific Northwest, or watch the San Francisco earthquake in perfect safety, or tour New England in a 1910 model automobile or take a trip in an ore bucket suspended from a cable from a Colorado silver mine over the Rocky Mountains to the Dakota territories as they were in the Pony Express days.

THE MAGNITUDE of the project is hard to grasp.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The new $60,000 fire station in St. Clair Ave. opened with a banquet for 300 guests.

Collections on playground day amounted to $455.

The Live-Wire 4-H Club of Chester planted two maple trees at the Glass School, near Pughtown.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The new radio cruiser for the Wellsville Police Department was put into operation.

Pennsylvania changed to daylight saving time, while East Liverpool remained standard.

Chester High School took top honors in marching at the fourth annual northeastern tournament in Wheeling.

TEN YEARS AGO — East Liverpool and virtually every other Ohio Valley community joined the eastern part of the nation in switching to daylight saving time.

About 70 attended the McKinley School Athletic dinner.

American Legion Post 4 voted to send 10 East Liverpool high school boys to the annual Buckeye Boys' State at Camp Perry in June.

Democrats Scared?

By David Lawrence

Party Reacts To Nixon At 'Summit'

Are the Democrats getting more and more scared of being defeated by Vice President Nixon in the next election?

David Lawrence

Fifty - five Democrats in the House of Representatives were so sensitive about the favorable publicity that the vice president might receive if he attended the summit conference at Paris during a possible absence of President Eisenhower that they signed a public protest.

They called on Mr. Eisenhower to "explain why during this election year he has suddenly decided to relinquish his job as president to the candidate he has endorsed as his successor." They added:

"By this obvious and transparent partisan move, the Republican administration has subordinated the hopes of Americans and free men everywhere for peace in the world to the political ambitions of Vice President Nixon."

Such a statement seems incredible. Without bothering to look into the facts and circumstances surrounding the President's decision, the 55 Democrats jumped to the conclusion that it was all just a brazen political move.

What probably happened is that some publicity man in the Democratic camp prepared the statement and rushed to get signatures on Capitol Hill.

WHAT, HOWEVER, are the facts about the President's decision? They could easily have been obtained. Mr. Eisenhower said to his press conference on Wednesday:

"Congress is in session and there are a number of bills that are important before the Congress. If they should come at an awkward time for me and I felt that they should be vetoed — now, I have quite a tough time schedule because any important bill that requires a veto, not only requires the most, the deepest study in the departments concerned but it demands daily consultation with me because I am the one that has got to be convinced that this is a bad bill or a good bill and therefore you cannot do this—if these bills are important—from a distance.

"Now, the only reason that I happen to have said this in this particular case is that we don't know how long this summit meeting is going to be. In 1955 we had a rather, a pretty good understanding of the number of days. Everybody agreed that this time it should go as long as it was felt necessary.

"So, since I am leaving on the 14th and had to fix a date for my visit to Portugal on Sunday, I took the 23rd to the 24th. This is getting along at a rather long period.

"So I said if domestic requirements did bring me back, I would have to ask Mr. Nixon to serve for me as the head of the delegation. This doesn't mean that I expect him to be there but I was—simply put the warning."

The key to the President's purpose may be read between the lines. The Soviets want a long conference. Mr. Eisenhower doesn't want to spend several weeks in Paris. In the 1955 conference at the summit in Geneva, a time limit was placed on the whole thing. This has not been done for the coming Paris conference.

IT WAS NATURAL, therefore, for Mr. Eisenhower to utter a word of warning. It was a difficult and delicate subject to handle, internationally speaking, so the President decided to serve warning indirectly that he would not engage in a prolonged palaver at Paris.

This is a maneuver in the conduct of foreign relations which the President ought to be able to make without the sabotaging tactics of partisans on Capitol Hill.

Surely the President of the United States ought to be free from petty sniping as he prepares for a summit conference on which hope for peace and disarmament is being based throughout the world.

Surely there must be ample time between June and November of this year for the snipers and the smearers to carry on their partisan attacks against Mr. Nixon.

Surely mere attendance for a couple days or even a week at the summit conference by Vice President Nixon, as he sits in for the President till Mr. Eisenhower can return to Paris or until the conference adjourns, is not something so catastrophic to the Democratic party's hopes for victory in 1960 as to cause so many of its members in the House, as well as some in the Senate, to lose perspective.

Former President Truman, by his statement approving President Eisenhower's plan to substitute the vice president at some Paris sessions, disassociated himself from the critics.

It has also been suggested on Capitol Hill that Secretary Herter should have been designated to head the delegation in the President's absence. But those who made the suggestion don't know "protocol." When heads of state meet, a foreign secretary cannot serve as a substitute. A vice president of the United States is considered the No. 2 man, just as is a vice chairman of the Soviet Union.

Letter To The Editor

Monday night's editorial extolling the beauties of the Beaver Creek region and spring stirred memories of what was once truly an enchanted land.

But at the risk of being considered a devotee of the "good old days" cliche, I must disagree that the creek and vicinity have the same beuty as in former years, although the waters still sparkle and the sky is just as blue. Alas, my recent walks near Fredericktown have given me as many heartaches as pleasures because of changes for the worse.

Part way down the old road to Fredericktown we used to park the car and walk through the woods down a delightful trail edged with wild flowers. Now the pleasant little place where we parked has become an anything but pleasant dump! Trilliums and spring beauties have vanished, buried under the old mattresses, beer cans and other refuse of those of our fellow citizens who habitually distribute their trash where it will most effectively spoil the natural loveliness of our country roads.

Near the Montour trestle another beauty spot has been destroyed, this one by a sawmill at its destructive worst. Small wonder our precious forests are disappearing if all lumbering companies are as appallingly wasteful as this one must have been!

One oak tree of so vast a girth that it must have been a sizable tree when George Washington was a boy was felled and left lying on the ground where it fell. Other large trees were cut and, after only a small portion of the trunk was removed, were left to rot. What was once a lovely woodsy ravine now is a scene of desolation suitable for an illustration in Dante's Inferno!

Then along the creek itself, pleasure in the rippling water was marred by the sight of many dead frogs and toads. Some cruel, ignorant fool with a gun had been slaughtering them for target practice. May there be special accommodations in the hereafter for heartless gunners who enjoy maiming and killing harmless and interesting creatures just to avail themselves of moving targets.

Even the state lends its hand to the destruction of natural beauty. Along the highway the eye meets the distressed brown of dead shrubs and trees instead of the expected restful green. Much of the landscape has been spoiled by the killing of roadside vegetation by poison sprays. If an enemy were to so blight our country and ruin the scenery, we would be highly indignant against the barbarism.

The saddest thing about these few instances is this — they are only a few of the many, many crimes against our natural heritage, and many other examples could be given. Must we always learn the lessons of conservation too late?

MRS. GEORGE GUYTON
1123 Pope Ave.

I am employed in Midland at the Crucible Steel Co., but I reside in East Liverpool, and have for the past nine years.

In recent weeks there have been close to 2,000 workers laid off at Crucible Steel, but I am still working.

What I am writing you about is a fellow that is running for a county office and is driving around in a foreign-made automobile. I am not sure what his name is. I don't know where he is from or what party he belongs to as the card on his car didn't say.

But I do know what kind of car he drives. It's a Renault-Dauphine. The point I have in mind, How can this man serve the people if he drives a car that is made with foreign-made steel?

Odd Facts

The glockenspiel is a percussion musical instrument dating from medieval times. It was originally, as the German name implies, a set of bells which were struck directly, but in the 16th century the instrument was given a keyboard and came to resemble a miniature carillon. Later metal bars were substituted for the bells and mallets were used instead of a keyboard. The first important composer to use the glockenspiel was Mozart, in "The Magic Flute."

Salary of prizefighter Jim Jeffries was $5,000 a week in vaudeville.

Video tape recordings will be obtainable at a low price within a few years, it says, and classrooms of tomorrow will be clustered around video lecture halls. But we still feel the kids won't fight their way into schools until the teacher rides a cowpony and shows them how to make a fast draw and shoot low marks out of report card.

The big problem for teacher may be how to handle moppets who demand, "Aw, tune out of this arithmetic program and let's see what's new in Dodge City and Boot Hill."

Pictures have always fasinated the young and helped them concentrate on history lessons. The book sketch of Custer's Last Fight never gripped them the way TV can with Indians in action.

The spelling lessons may be given a long awaited appeal if there is a Shotgun Slade interval between difficult words. There might even be big advantages in a grammar lesson "in color."

Arithmetic annoys most kids but it could hold them if the outlaw cattle thief could be shown meeting his end at hands of the town marshal who was best mathematician in the old West. TV in lower grades would wow the pupils.

"Willie, it's time to go to school" has no appeal. But suppose mommer could hand the kid a "Schoolhouse Guide" advertising "Don't miss today's spelling spectacular!" — "See the five-star multiplication table special" and "Your schoolhouse offers 'The Three R's with Red Skelton, Hugh O'Brien, Whirlybirds and Bozo the Clown.' "

"How was school today?" mother will ask. "Pretty good. But there was too much static in the 'Startime Grammar Show' and one of the tubes went wrong during the late, late spelling lesson," can be the answer.

REMEMBER AWAY BACK when a public official didn't think it proof of financial genius if he got out of every hole by another tax on cigarettes and gasoline?

Charges of profiteering have given drug manufacturers a headache. But you would think they, of all people, could produce a cure for it.

Oh, tycoons pharmaceutical

Charlie Chaplin's name has been scratched from the Hollywood list of 1,000 great movie stars. It's hard to defend Charlie for his political views and contempt for America, where he found fame and fortune but to omit him from the ranks of great picture stars is silly. His feet, cane, derby and mustache will always eclipse his private behavior.

"Holiday On Ice," American export in cultural exchange, got a big reception in Africa where temperature is around 108. It message to the world is hard to dig. Maybe it's American way of saying, "Threats, atomic bombs and war clouds would disappear if we would all go skating."

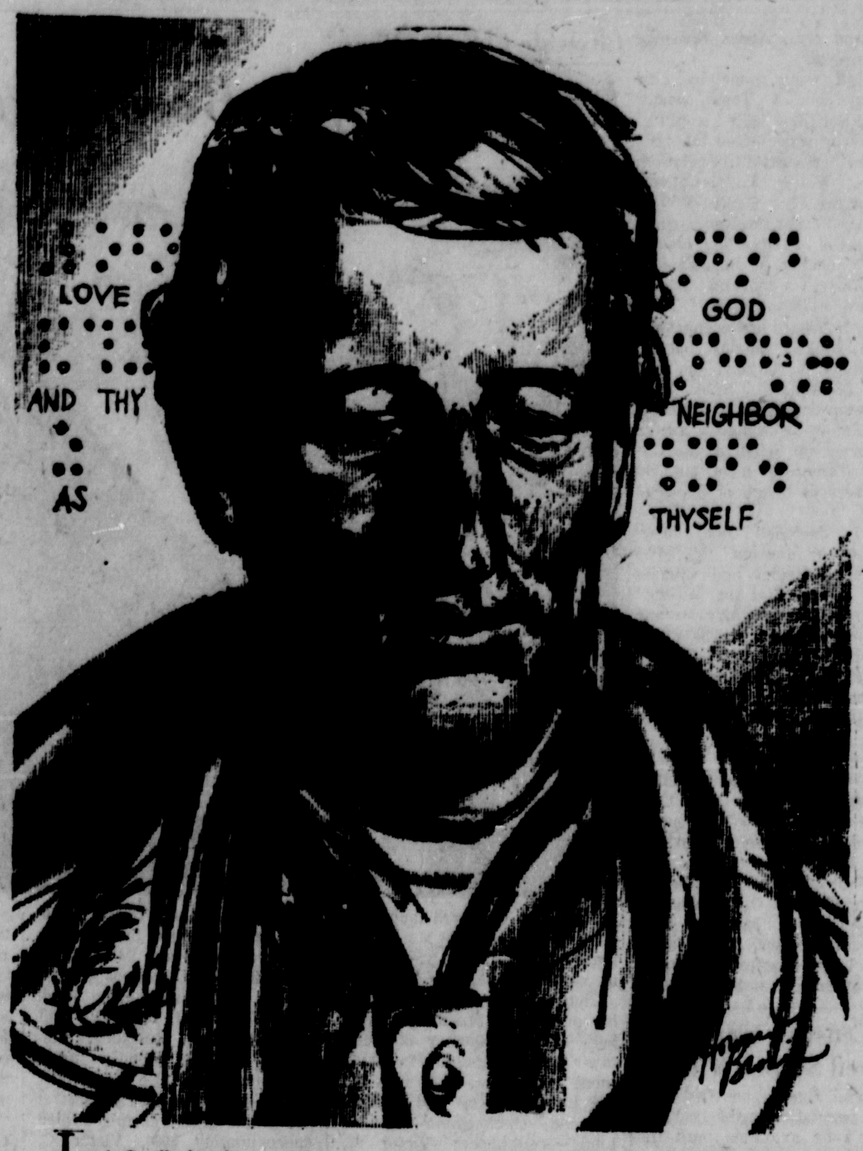
New York has tighter laws on drunken driving with $500 fine and 30 days for first offender. But in modern traffic scene how do you tell a blotto driver from a sober one?

REMEMBER AWAY BACK when it was not uncommon to see an old and battered auto on an American highway? A few years ago one in every ten seemed to have at least one window busted, a door handle missing and all the gloss long gone. Today you can make money betting you won't see a shabby auto more than twice in a 300-mile tour.

Despite its expressed desire to give more time to matters of importance, TV seems to be going the other way fast. Amazed fans are still discussing the failure to cover De Gaulle in Washington and New York welcomes except in snatches for brief spot in the news programs.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie



Louis Braille lost his eyesight in a childhood accident in 1812. Entering a school for the blind in Paris, he learned his alphabet from wooden letters. Then he "read" large letters impressed on paper but was impatient with a system that required hours to understand one paragraph.

Next, Braille studied music and at 14 became organist for the Church of St. Anne. There he thought of joining the blind friars, but the Canon said, "God may have great plans for you . . . Pray to Him . . . He will show you the way." Louis became one of the great organists of Europe. Yet, he was lonely, could not resign himself to blindness, and was heard to cry out, "Dear God, restore my sight . . . and I'll dedicate my life to helping my blind brothers."

Though he did not gain his sight, but instead was stricken with tuberculosis, Louis helped his blind brothers. After learning of an army captain's system of night writing, he spent days and nights for years perfecting a touch system. Today, the blind read and write in Braille, play instruments from Braille music-scores, learn geography from Braille maps, put Braille labels on canned goods and operate office machines through his system.

Hoffa Asks Aid For Convicted 9

By Victor Riesel

LOS ANGELES

Security intelligence forces of two nations have been concerned over the activities of one union which sits astride the mining of scarce nickel needed for tubing in hydrogen bomb installations. This union covers strategic heavy water plants, uranium mining and refining and vital copper mining.

Victor Riesel

Nine leaders of this union, the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, have been convicted of conspiring with Communist party officials to defraud and deceive the government of the United States.

It is this union which James R. Hoffa has befriended. It is this band of convicted conspirators whom he and his colleagues in the Teamsters high command have decided to help.

It is this group of men accused by the government of being Communist party members for which the Teamsters top council has been raising funds.

I have before me a copy of a letter written by Jim Hoffa on official Teamsters stationery proving all this. The letter refers to the convicted men as "our brother trade unionists."

THIS LETTER was written to Mine - Mill president John Clark. Copies of it were then sent to most of the leaders of the Teamsters' 900 locals.

Accompanying each copy of the Hoffa letter to Clark was a covering note from the Teamster president to his lieutenants across the land.

In it he urged that monetary aid be sent for the financing of an appeal of the nine sentences which were handed down March 14. Seven of the men were ordered to jail for three years. Two were handed 18 months' terms.

These men were convicted, among other things, of conspiring with four Communist party officials, "to dominate and control and continue to dominate and control the affairs and policies of said union (the Mine-Mill)."

These men, who had in their hands so powerful a union, were convicted of conspiring to "pretend to resign from their membership in the Communist party and pretend to terminate their affiliation with said party but would in fact continue their membership in and affiliation with same."

IN HOFFA'S LETTER to the Mine - Mill Union president, the Teamsters chief sees these convictions as an attack on all labor. Specifically he says:

"At the last . . . board meeting of the . . . Teamsters, General Secretary - Treasurer John F. English and I were authorized to extend financial aid and support to your organization, the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, on behalf of nine leaders of that union whose recent conviction is now on appeal.

"These nine men were convicted on a charge of conspiracy to violate the now defunct oath sections of the Taft-Hartley law.

"The outcome of this appeal is of vital importance to the entire trade union movement. The question of the truth or falsity of the affidavits formerly required under Taft-Hartley, but no longer required under the new Kennedy - Landrum - Griffin law, is not an issue in any sense in our decision to lend assistance to our brother trade unionists."

WHAT HOFFA refers to here is the law which required labor leaders to sign affidavits that they were not Communists. This was wiped out on Sept. 14, 1959. The Mine-Mill officials were indicted on Nov. 16, 1956 — almost three years earlier.

What particularly disturbs Hoffa is that the nine were convicted of conspiring to defraud the government rather than for actually committing the fraud.

"We feel that it is of vital importance that we lend our aid to make sure that trade unionists are fully protected against the abuses that grow out of the use of conspiracy charges by the government. We wish you success. Fraternally yours, James R. Hoffa," the letter concludes.

Who, then, will protect the government of these United States? Or is that a silly question to ask in some quarters?

U.S. In Miniature

By Jim Doyle

Beginning in June, if you get tired of San Francisco's exotic Chinatown, you can stroll over to Chicago and help put the fire out, or take a quick paddle - wheel steamboat ride through the Great Lakes that is guaranteed to get you back in time for dinner.

This sort of thing will become possible, at least figuratively, on June 19. That's when Freedomland, the East Coast's answer to Disneyland, opens in New York.

Freedomland is a 65-million-dollar amusement area rapidly nearing completion in New York City. It will duplicate, in miniature but in authentic detail, 16 historic areas of the United States. It will have 41 separate exhibits and more than 30 rides ranging from stagecoaches to a space shop that will take you around the world in six minutes.

THE HUGE PROJECT, being built on a site shaped like the United States, represents a new concept in mass entertainment, a trend away from the Coney Island type of amusement park, with its thrill rides, games of chance and carnival shows.

It is the brain child of a young Texan, C. V. Wood, who pioneered the idea in Disneyland, and of Ted Raynor, a Chicago lawyer.

"We feel that people expect a little more than hot dogs and roller coasters these days," says Raynor, who is president of the Freedomland Co. "We decided on a unified show built around a theme.

"We chose American history, or Americana, if you wish, from more than 200 suggested themes because of the growing interest in the subject.

"But we didn't want to build a huge museum. The whole idea is amusement. It's educational, but primarily it's a place for the family to have fun."

There won't be any rollercoasters but there will be rides. You can get shot at by Indians on a trip through the Pacific Northwest, or watch the San Francisco earthquake in perfect safety, or tour New England in a 1910 model automobile or take a trip in an ore bucket suspended from a cable from a Colorado silver mine over the Rocky Mountains to the Dakota territories as they were in the Pony Express days.

THE MAGNITUDE of the project is hard to grasp.

Democrats Scared?

By David Lawrence

Party Reacts To Nixon At 'Summit'

Are the Democrats getting more and more scared of being defeated by Vice President Nixon in the next election?

David Lawrence

Fifty - five Democrats in the House of Representatives were so sensitive about the favorable publicity that the vice president might receive if he attended the summit conference at Paris during a possible absence of President Eisenhower that they signed a public protest.

They called on Mr. Eisenhower to "explain why during this election year he has suddenly decided to relinquish his job as president to the candidate he has endorsed as his successor." They added:

"By this obvious and transparent partisan move, the Republican administration has subordinated the hopes of Americans and free men everywhere for peace in the world to the political ambitions of Vice President Nixon."

Such a statement seems incredible. Without bothering to look into the facts and circumstances surrounding the President's decision, the 55 Democrats jumped to the conclusion that it was all just a brazen political move.

What probably happened is that some publicity man in the Democratic camp prepared the statement and rushed to get signatures on Capitol Hill.

WHAT, HOWEVER, are the facts about the President's decision? They could easily have been obtained. Mr. Eisenhower said to his press conference on Wednesday:

"Congress is in session and there are a number of bills that are important before the Congress. If they should come at an awkward time for me and I felt that they should be vetoed — now, I have quite a tough time schedule because any important bill that requires a veto, not only requires the most, the deepest study in the departments concerned but it demands daily consultation with me because I am the one that has got to be convinced that this is a bad bill or a good bill and therefore you cannot do this—if these bills are important—from a distance.

"Now, the only reason that I happen to have said this in this particular case is that we don't know how long this summit meeting is going to be. In 1955 we had a rather, a pretty good understanding of the number of days. Everybody agreed that this time it should go as long as it was felt necessary.

"So, since I am leaving on the 14th and had to fix a date for my visit to Portugal on Sunday, I took the 23rd to the 24th. This is getting along at a rather long period.

"So I said if domestic requirements did bring me back, I would have to ask Mr. Nixon to serve for me as the head of the delegation. This doesn't mean that I expect him to be there but I was—simply put the warning."

The key to the President's purpose may be read between the lines. The Soviets want a long conference. Mr. Eisenhower doesn't want to spend several weeks in Paris. In the 1955 conference at the summit in Geneva, a time limit was placed on the whole thing. This has not been done for the coming Paris conference.

IT WAS NATURAL, therefore, for Mr. Eisenhower to utter a word of warning. It was a difficult and delicate subject to handle, internationally speaking, so the President decided to serve warning indirectly that he would not engage in a prolonged palaver at Paris.

This is a maneuver in the conduct of foreign relations which the President ought to be able to make without the sabotaging tactics of partisans on Capitol Hill.

Surely the President of the United States ought to be free from petty sniping as he prepares for a summit conference on which hope for peace and disarmament is being based throughout the world.

Surely there must be ample time between June and November of this year for the snipers and the smearers to carry on their partisan attacks against Mr. Nixon.

Surely mere attendance for a couple days or even a week at the summit conderence by Vice President Nixon, as he sits in for the President till Mr. Eisenhower can return to Paris or until the conference adjourns, is not something so catastrophic to the Democratic party's hopes for victory in 1960 as to cause so many of its members in the House, as well as some in the Senate, to lose perspective.

Former President Truman, by his statement approving President Eisenhower's plan to substitute the vice president at some Paris sessions, disassociated himself from the critics.

It has also been suggested on Capitol Hill that Secretary Herter should have been designated to head the delegation in the President's absence. But those who made the suggestion don't know "protocol." When heads of state meet, a foreign secretary cannot serve as a substitute. A vice president of the United States is considered the No. 2 man, just as is a vice chairman of the Soviet Union.

Letter To The Editor

Monday night's editorial extolling the beauties of the Beaver Creek region and spring stirred memories of what was once truly an enchanted land.

But at the risk of being considered a devotee of the "good old days" cliche, I must disagree that the creek and vicinity have the same beuty as in former years, although the waters still sparkle and the sky is just as blue. Alas, my recent walks near Fredericktown have given me as many heartaches as pleasures because of changes for the worse.

Part way down the old road to Fredericktown we used to park the car and walk through the woods down a delightful trail edged with wild flowers. Now the pleasant little place where we parked has become an anything but pleasant dump! Trilliums and spring beauties have vanished, buried under the old mattresses, beer cans and other refuse of those of our fellow citizens who habitually distribute their trash where it will most effectively spoil the natural loveliness of our country roads.

Near the Montour trestle another beauty spot has been destroyed, this one by a sawmill at its destructive worst. Small wonder our precious forests are disappearing if all lumbering companies are as appallingly wasteful as this one must have been!

One oak tree of so vast a girth that it must have been a sizable tree when George Washington was a boy was felled and left lying on the ground where it fell. Other large trees were cut and, after only a small portion of the trunk was removed, were left to rot. What was once a lovely woodsy ravine now is a scene of desolation suitable for an illustration in Dante's Inferno!

Then along the creek itself, pleasure in the rippling water was marred by the sight of many dead frogs and toads. Some cruel, ignorant fool with a gun had been slaughtering them for target practice. May there be special accommodations in the hereafter for heartless gunners who enjoy maiming and killing harmless and interesting creatures just to avail themselves of moving targets.

Even the state lends its hand to the destruction of natural beauty. Along the highway the eye meets the distressed brown of dead shrubs and trees instead of the expected restful green. Much of the landscape has been spoiled by the killing of roadside vegetation by poison sprays. If an enemy were to so blight our country and ruin the scenery, we would be highly indignant against the barbarism.

The saddest thing about these few instances is this — they are only a few of the many, many crimes against our natural heritage, and many other examples could be given. Must we always learn the lessons of conservation too late?

In recent weeks there have been close to 2,000 workers laid off at Crucible Steel, but I am still working.

What I am writing you about is a fellow that is running for a county office and is driving around in a foreign-made automobile. I am not sure what his name is. I don't know where he is from or what party he belongs to as the card on his car didn't say.

But I do know what kind of car he drives. It's a Renault-Dauphine. The point I have in mind, How can this man serve the people if he drives a car that is made with foreign-made steel?

Odd Facts

The glockenspiel is a percussion musical instrument dating from medieval times. It was originally, as the German name implies, a set of bells which were struck directly, but in the 16th century the instrument was given a keyboard and came to resemble a miniature carillon. Later metal bars were substituted for the bells and smallets were used instead of a keyboard. The first important composer to use the glockenspiel was Mozart, in "The Magic Flute."

South Beaver Group Meets

Beaver County Commissioners James Ross and Gordon Camp spoke on county tax increases at a meeting of the South Beaver County Civic Association Thursday night at the Raccoon Township School.

Both explained the 3½-mill increase which raised the county millage from 9 to 12½.

The association decided that it will not support the Greater Pittsburgh Airport expressway through Vanport until after construction contracts for the Shippingport Bridge have been let. The association is definitely for the expressway, Mrs. Lois Lutton, secretary, said, however.

New officers attending their first meeting were J. Stanley Miller of Raccoon Township, president, who succeeds William Littell of Hanover Township, now vice president; Joseph Cotter of Shippingport, treasurer; Mrs. Lutton of Raccoon Township, secretary, and O. V. Boone of Greene Township, Harry A. Mayhue of Hopewell and Leo O'Mara of Raccoon Township, three-year trustees.

Other trustees are Lawrence Christy, Earl Crooks, Carl Lutton, Eugene Lombard, Mont McCoy and Harry G. Mayhue.

Next meeting will be held tentatively May 26 at the Hookstown Grange Hall.

VFW To Mark 'Loyalty Day'

Wellsville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5647 will hold its annual Loyalty Day observance Sunday, the first day of National VFW Week, Emmett Daniels, commander, said today.

In conjunction with the observance, Mayor William J. Shoub has proclaimed next week as "National VFW Week," urging a special tribute to the organization.

The mayor's proclamation pointed out the VFW is serving the country in peace as it did in war, explaining it sponsors more than 600,000 community service projects annually and has won 10 consecutive Freedom Foundation awards.

Daniels said the National VFW Week was moved back in 1959 to coincide with Loyalty Day so the organization not only could present the work of the VFW but call attention to the Loyalty Day observance.

Loyalty Day originally was promoted by the VFW but Congress has approved a bill which makes it a national observance, the VFW commander said. "If everyone will join the VFW in observing Loyalty Day, we can show the entire world just what our country and our form of government means to us," he said.

Strike

ed are meter readers, inspectors and maintenance and service men.

The 36-member East Liverpool Local held its strike vote last night in the IBOP Hall, according to William Bleigh, president.

A spokesman for Local 436, Utility Workers of America, for Ohio Valley Gas in the Bridgeport area, said his members approved the strike by 31-5 but he declined to state whether the men would go on strike.

Ohio Valley serves about 40,000 in Eastern Ohio.

The 41-member Weirton Union local of District 50, United Mine Workers, Friday night voted to strike, along with three other locals in Uniontown, Washington, Pa., and Wheeling, against the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co.

Employes of the Weirton Local 14198 are outside workers, such as meter readers and maintenance and construction workers, serving Weirton, Wellsburg, Chester and Newell.

The strike would have no immediate affect on the company service, except on repairs and new installations, a spokesman said. The utility serves 255,000 domestic and industrial customers in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio.

Commissioner Henry L. Maggiolo of the Federal Mediation Service met all day Friday in Pittsburgh with company officials and representatives of five locals in an effort to break a deadlock in wage negotiations.

Late Friday afternoon, Maggiolo announced the deadlock still existed, that no further negotiations had been called, but that he and state mediators would stand by and make every effort to avert the walkout.

About 700 employes are involved. Manufacturers was struck briefly last year about this time by the same District 50 locals in Pittsburgh, Washington, Jeannette and Weirton.

Maggiolo and state conciliators urged "both union and management to consider the consequence of a work stoppage which would have such a serious and dangerous impact on the people and industries of the Pittsburgh area."

Dog Owners Pay $380 Fines In Beaver Cases

Some $380 in fines have been paid in Beaver County by dog owners who had not bought their 1960 licenses, Richard L. Taafe, dog law officer, reported.

He said several more cases are being processed. He said 55 owners of unlicensed dogs are summoned the first week of April and there will be more.

A check of the Beaver Courthouse lists 2,965 dog owners who have not purchased 1960 licenses, Taafe said, urging owners to buy the licenses and avoid prosecution.

He said some 34,090 dogs were killed by officers in the state during 1959 and stock damage claims cost the taxpayers $46,818 and dog owners paid $3,537.80 for damages by dogs.

Planes Scan Pacific For Missing Flier

HONOLULU (AP) — Coast Guard planes searched the waters and islands of the Pacific today for long overdue Peter Gluckmann, the flying San Francisco watchmaker. Gluckmann vanished in radio silence three days ago on a try for a non-stop record for light planes from Tokyo to New York.

A Bandera, Tex., housewife, Mrs. J. E. Sifferliu, reported hearing what she thought was a short-wave radio message from Gluckmann that he was setting down on an island 150 miles from Honolulu.

But there was no sign of Gluckmann on any of the beaches within that radius of Hawaii and a Coast Guard spokesman called the search "a very long shot."

7 Townships Set Levy Vote

While East Liverpool School District voters are deciding three levies in Tuesday's primary, residents of seven townships will be balloting on tax measures designed to furnish funds for fire or police protection and road maintenance.

All require only a bare majority for passage.

The fire protection levies, all renewals proposed for 5 years, are: Center Township, four - tenths of a mill; Elkrun Township, five-tenths of a mill, and Hanover Township, 1 mill.

The police protection levies, both new, will be voted on in Franklin Township and Washington Township. Franklin's measure is two-tenths of a mill for two years and Washington's is five - tenths of a mill for 5 years.

Hanover and West Townships will vote on levies for road maintenance. Hanover's is a 5-year renewal of a 1-mill levy and West's is a 2-year renewal of a 2-mill proposition.

Chester Fire Hydrants To Be Flushed Tonight

Lewis Govey, Chester water works superintendent, said that if weather permits, some 54 fire hydrants of the city will be flushed between midnight tonight and 6 a. m. Sunday.

He said the flushing is necessary to get rid of dirt and possible rust which may have accumulated over the winter in spur lines from main lines to the hydrants.

If the work is not done this weekend it will be the next, he said.

214 Absentee Ballots Cast For Primaries

A total of 214 civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots have been cast for Tuesday's primaries, the County Election Board said today.

They were returned before the deadline Friday noon while 11 ballots still haven't been returned, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said. The ballots include 93 issued to disabled persons and 121 cast by those who will be absent from the polling places.

Fifteen ballots issued under the "soldier voting" law still haven't been returned. However, armed forces personnel and civilians residing temporarily outside the United States have until noon Tuesday to return them. Fifty-two were issued, O'Hanlon said.

South Beaver Group Meets

Beaver County Commissioners James Ross and Gordon Camp spoke on county tax increases at a meeting of the South Beaver County Civic Association Thursday night at the Raccoon Township School.

Both explained the 3½-mill increase which raised the county millage from 9 to 12½.

The association decided that it will not support the Greater Pittsburgh Airport expressway through Vanport until after construction contracts for the Shippingport Bridge have been let. The association is definitely for the expressway, Mrs. Lois Lutton, secretary, said, however.

New officers attending their first meeting were J. Stanley Miller of Raccoon Township, president, who succeeds William Littell of Hanover Township, now vice president; Joseph Cotter of Shippingport, treasurer; Mrs. Lutton of Raccoon Township, secretary, and O. V. Boone of Greene Township, Harry A. Mayhue of Hopewell and Leo O'Mara of Raccoon Township, three-year trustees.

Other trustees are Lawrence Christy, Earl Crooks, Carl Lutton, Eugene Lombard, Mont McCoy and Harry G. Mayhue.

Next meeting will be held tentatively May 26 at the Hookstown Grange Hall.

VFW To Mark 'Loyalty Day'

Wellsville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5647 will hold its annual Loyalty Day observance Sunday, the first day of National VFW Week, Emmett Daniels, commander, said today.

In conjunction with the observance, Mayor William J. Shoub has proclaimed next week as "National VFW Week," urging a special tribute to the organization.

The mayor's proclamation pointed out the VFW is serving the country in peace as it did in war, explaining it sponsors more than 600,000 community service projects annually and has won 10 consecutive Freedom Foundation awards.

Daniels said the National VFW Week was moved back in 1959 to coincide with Loyalty Day so the organization not only could present the work of the VFW but call attention to the Loyalty Day observance.

Loyalty Day originally was promoted by the VFW but Congress has approved a bill which makes it a national observance, the VFW commander said. "If everyone will join the VFW in observing Loyalty Day, we can show the entire world just what our country and our form of government means to us," he said.

Strike

ed are meter readers, inspectors and maintenance and service men.

The 36-member East Liverpool Local held its strike vote last night in the IBOP Hall, according to William Bleigh, president.

A spokesman for Local 436, Utility Workers of America, for Ohio Valley Gas in the Bridgeport area, said his members approved the strike by 31-5 but he declined to state whether the men would go on strike.

Ohio Valley serves about 40,000 in Eastern Ohio.

The 41-member Weirton Union local of District 50, United Mine Workers, Friday night voted to strike, along with three other locals in Uniontown, Washington, Pa., and Wheeling, against the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co.

Employes of the Weirton Local 14198 are outside workers, such as meter readers and maintenance and construction workers, serving Weirton, Wellsburg, Chester and Newell.

The strike would have no immediate affect on the company service, except on repairs and new installations, a spokesman said. The utility serves 255,000 domestic and industrial customers in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio.

Commissioner Henry L. Maggiolo of the Federal Mediation Service met all day Friday in Pittsburgh with company officials and representatives of five locals in an effort to break a deadlock in wage negotiations.

Late Friday afternoon, Maggiolo announced the deadlock still existed, that no further negotiations had been called, but that he and state mediators would stand by and make every effort to avert the walkout.

About 700 employes are involved. Manufacturers was struck briefly last year about this time by the same District 50 locals in Pittsburgh, Washington, Jeannette and Weirton.

Maggiolo and state conciliators urged "both union and management to consider the consequence of a work stoppage which would have such a serious and dangerous impact on the people and industries of the Pittsburgh area."

Dog Owners Pay $380 Fines In Beaver Cases

Some $380 in fines have been paid in Beaver County by dog owners who had not bought their 1960 licenses, Richard L. Taafe, dog law officer, reported.

He said several more cases are being processed. He said 55 owners of unlicensed dogs are summoned the first week of April and there will be more.

A check of the Beaver Courthouse lists 2,965 dog owners who have not purchased 1960 licenses, Taafe said, urging owners to buy the licenses and avoid prosecution.

He said some 34,090 dogs were killed by officers in the state during 1959 and stock damage claims cost the taxpayers $46,818 and dog owners paid $3,537.80 for damages by dogs.

Planes Scan Pacific For Missing Flier

HONOLULU (AP) — Coast Guard planes searched the waters and islands of the Pacific today for long overdue Peter Gluckmann, the flying San Francisco watchmaker. Gluckmann vanished in radio silence three days ago on a try for a non-stop record for light planes from Tokyo to New York.

A Bandera, Tex., housewife, Mrs. J. E. Sifferliu, reported hearing what she thought was a short-wave radio message from Gluckmann that he was setting down on an island 150 miles from Honolulu.

But there was no sign of Gluckmann on any of the beaches within that radius of Hawaii and a Coast Guard spokesman called the search "a very long shot."

Bottle-Tossing Experts

GLOUCESTER, Va. — If you find a note in a floating bottle off the Atlantic coast, it's more likely from a scientist than a stranded seaman. Over 500 bottles have been tossed over at the mouth of Chesapeake Bay to test currents.

7 Townships Set Levy Vote

While East Liverpool School District voters are deciding three levies in Tuesday's primary, residents of seven townships will be balloting on tax measures designed to furnish funds for fire or police protection and road maintenance.

All require only a bare majority for passage.

The fire protection levies, all renewals proposed for 5 years, are: Center Township, four - tenths of a mill; Elkrun Township, five-tenths of a mill, and Hanover Township, 1 mill.

The police protection levies, both new, will be voted on in Franklin Township and Washington Township. Franklin's measure is two-tenths of a mill for two years and Washington's is five - tenths of a mill for 5 years.

Hanover and West Townships will vote on levies for road maintenance. Hanover's is a 5-year renewal of a 1-mill levy and West's is a 2-year renewal of a 2-mill proposition.

Chester Fire Hydrants To Be Flushed Tonight

Lewis Govey, Chester water works superintendent, said that if weather permits, some 54 fire hydrants of the city will be flushed between midnight tonight and 6 a. m. Sunday.

He said the flushing is necessary to get rid of dirt and possible rust which may have accumulated over the winter in spur lines from main lines to the hydrants.

If the work is not done this weekend it will be the next, he said.

214 Absentee Ballots Cast For Primaries

A total of 214 civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots have been cast for Tuesday's primaries, the County Election Board said today.

They were returned before the deadline Friday noon while 11 ballots still haven't been returned, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said. The ballots include 93 issued to disabled persons and 121 cast by those who will be absent from the polling places.

Fifteen ballots issued under the "soldier voting" law still haven't been returned. However, armed forces personnel and civilians residing temporarily outside the United States have until noon Tuesday to return them. Fifty-two were issued, O'Hanlon said.

THE MEMORIAL you choose should be—it must be—a worthy keeper of memory. When it is erected in its place in the cemetery, it should bring dignity to that place, and beauty . . . and it should bring an inspiration to stranger and kin alike for years yet uncounted. Due to inclement weather the time for erecting a Monument for Memorial day has been shortened. If you plan to erect a Monument for Memorial Day, make your selection NOW. When you buy from us, your are assured perfection.

THE MEMORIAL you choose should be—it must be—a worthy keeper of memory. When it is erected in its place in the cemetery, it should bring dignity to that place, and beauty . . . and it should bring an inspiration to stranger and kin alike for years yet uncounted. Due to inclement weather the time for erecting a Monument for Memorial day has been shortened. If you plan to erect a Monument for Memorial Day, make your selection NOW. When you buy from us, your are assured perfection.

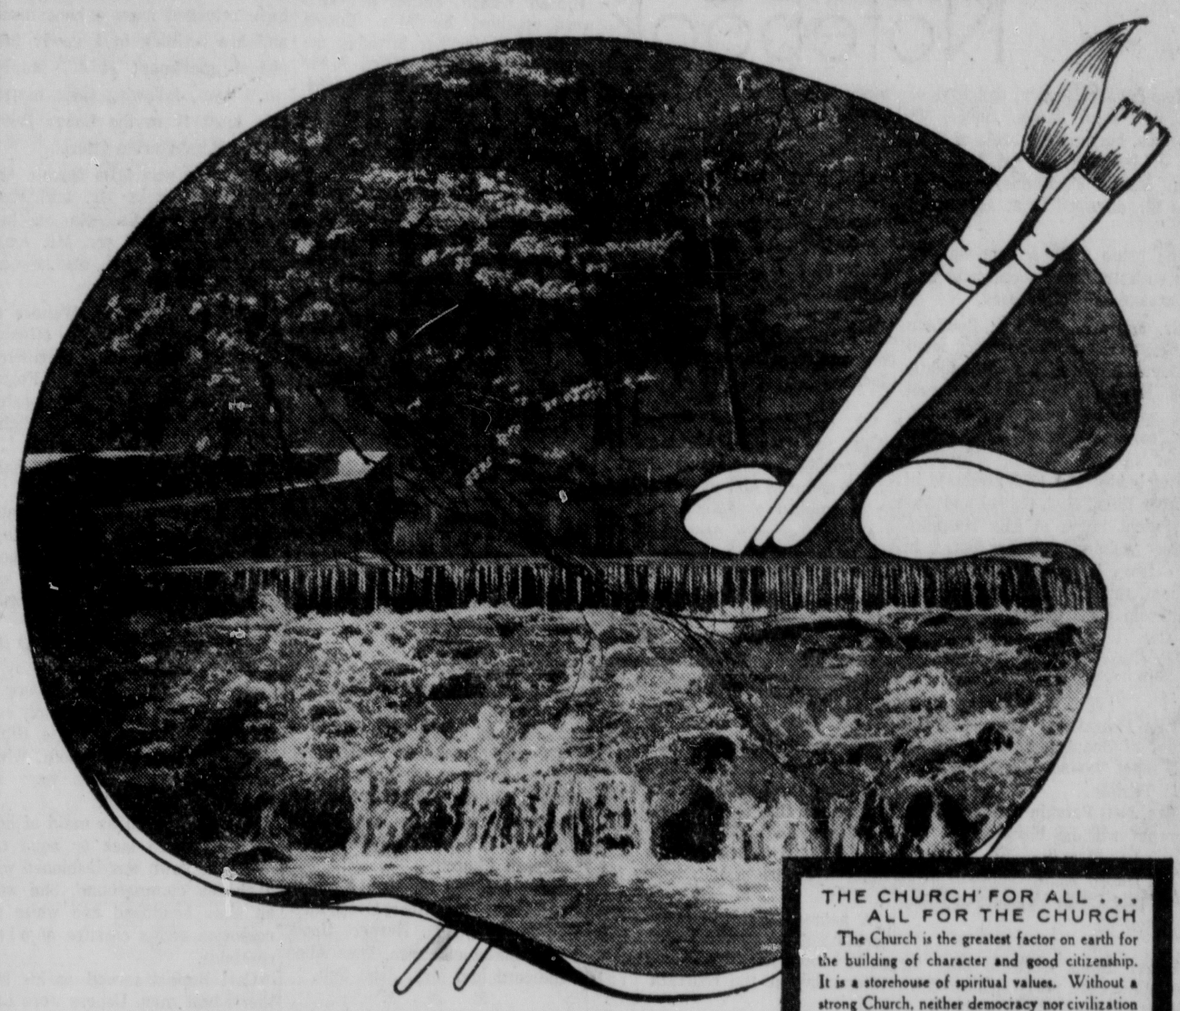
The Master's Touch



God must love beauty, to use it so lavishly. The Master Artist dapples the soft green leaves with golden sunshine, turns the brook to flowing crystal, and puts a song into Spring itself.

There is beauty in us, too . . . because He put it there. In His sight, none of us are ugly, none of us are forsaken, none of us are "lost."

But sometimes, in the busy process of day-to-day living, we turn blind eyes upon the world's loveliness, and take for granted the gifts which should brighten the hours and years. We need a faith that gives us vision to find again the inner beauty He gave us in the beginning . . . a gift which He never takes away. Let us go, then, to His Church. Let us "enter into His gates with thanksgiving . . . for the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His Truth endureth forever."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

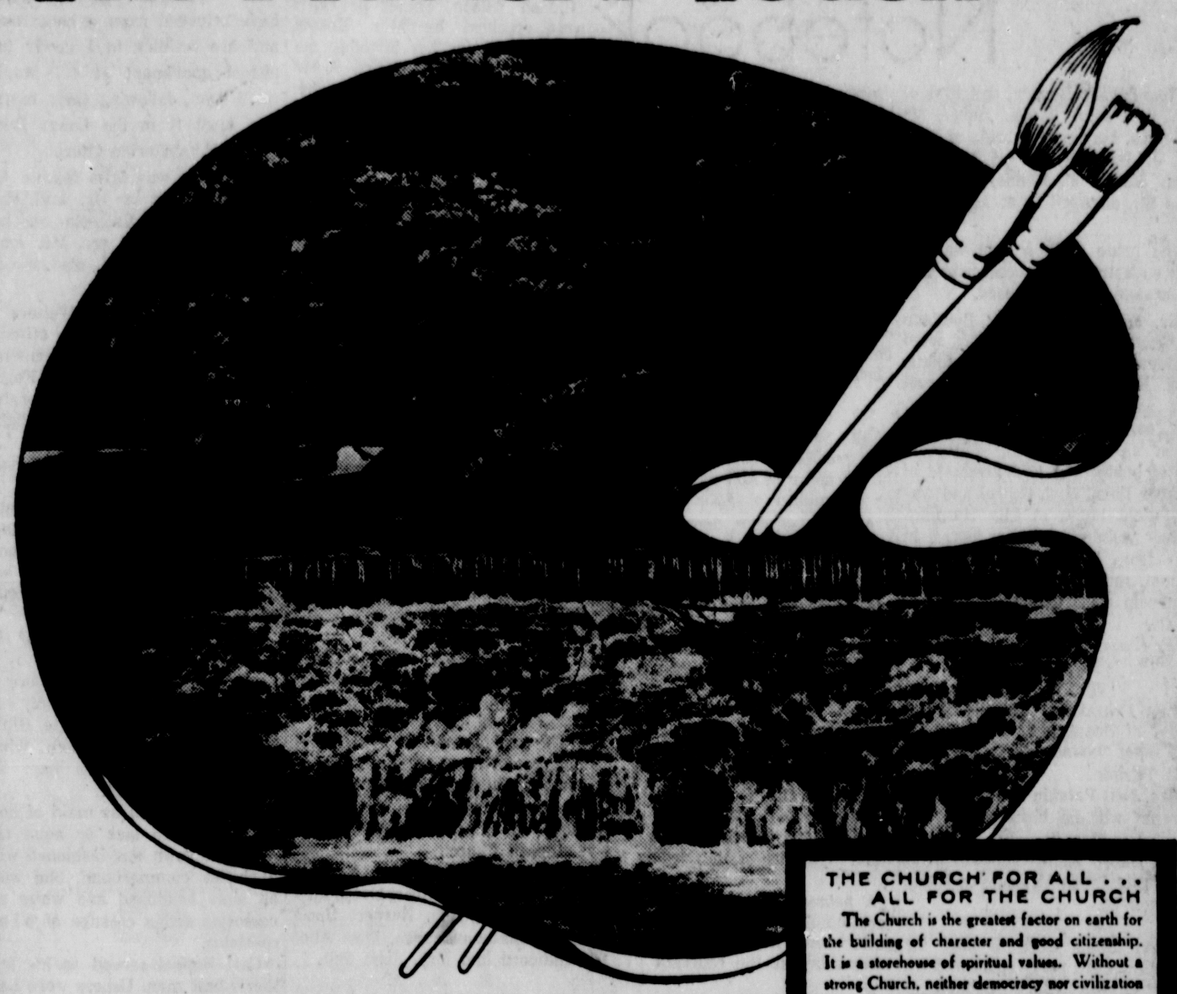
The Master's Touch



God must love beauty, to use it so lavishly. The Master Artist dapples the soft green leaves with golden sunshine, turns the brook to flowing crystal, and puts a song into Spring itself.

There is beauty in us, too . . . because He put it there. In His sight, none of us are ugly, none of us are forsaken, none of us are "lost."

But sometimes, in the busy process of day-to-day living, we turn blind eyes upon the world's loveliness, and take for granted the gifts which should brighten the hours and years. We need a faith that gives us vision to find again the inner beauty He gave us in the beginning . . . a gift which He never takes away. Let us go, then, to His Church. Let us "enter into His gates with thanksgiving . . . for the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His Truth endureth forever."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We have the largest block of votes of any place in the County, but have no representation on the Democratic ticket at present, in the County Court House. One Judge from this City is a Democrat, but Judges are non-partisan.

Let us give our City the representation in the Court House it deserves, by nominating Larry Finlay for County Recorder.

We helped put several Democrats in Lisbon two years ago, and also the State House.

Remember, you need to have your own community represented by one of your own. Nominate Lawrence A. Finlay for County Recorder.

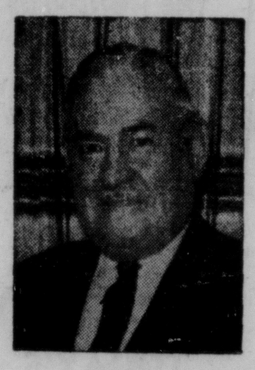
RUDY
WILK
FOR DEMOCRAT
County Commissioner



Dear Fellow Voters:

I am a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Columbiana County. This year we nominate two candidates.

The population of Columbiana will exceed 100,000 in 1960 for the first time in history. This means that the business of Columbiana County will increase and expand.

The office of County Commissioner increases in stature as the county grows. The duties of the office becomes more important. So, today the office demands the qualifications of a business man of long experience.

I have been a business man in our county for 37 years. I was born in E. Liverpool where I attended public schools. Later I was engaged in the bakery business in Wellsville, and more recently I became the owner of the Riverview Hotel there.

My experience extends to municiple office, I have been an active member, for 26 years, of the Wellsville Civil Service Commission and am now serving as Chairman.

I feel I am qualified by experience to perform the duties of Commissioner and I respectfully solicit your vote at the May 3rd Primary election.

Sincerely,
RUDY WILK
For County Commissioner

WILK
FOR DEMOCRAT
County Commissioner

Dear Fellow Voters:

I am a candidate for the office of County Commissioner of Columbiana County. This year we nominate two candidates.

The population of Columbiana will exceed 100,000 in 1960 for the first time in history. This means that the business of Columbiana County will increase and expand.

The office of County Commissioner increases in stature as the county grows. The duties of the office becomes more important. So, today the office demands the qualifications of a business man of long experience.

I have been a business man in our county for 37 years. I was born in E. Liverpool where I attended public schools. Later I was engaged in the bakery business in Wellsville, and more recently I became the owner of the Riverview Hotel there.

My experience extends to municiple office, I have been an active member, for 26 years, of the Wellsville Civil Service Commission and am now serving as Chairman.

I feel I am qualified by experience to perform the duties of Commissioner and I respectfully solicit your vote at the May 3rd Primary election.

Sincerely,
RUDY WILK

Council O.K.'s Road Moving

Chester City Council at a special meeting Friday evening, agreed to relocate a 20-foot road—Alpine Way—from the property of Matt Stipec of R. D. 1.

Stipec attended several meetings with Council, asking that the road be moved. It runs just inside his property and was built in the mid-1930's by WPA workers.

Stipec plans to have a bulldozer work on his property and use the dirt to fill in the new roadway. Council agreed to pay for three hours of the bulldozer cost.

The road, little traveled, will be moved about 22 feet north of its present location and will be surfaced with gravel or slag.

William E. Conklin, city solicitor, said Stipec would have been in violation of state law he had closed the right-of-way himself, since law says a road becomes permanent after 10 years use.

Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, presided, in the absence of Mayor Burton Ward.

AN OPEN LETTER TO REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY

HOW TO PICK YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

There are two State Representatives to be elected to represent Columbiana County in the legislature next term. ONE of these two will only serve one term. How should you pick the best qualified.

Part of the duties center around introducing legislation and enacting it into law. To be effective, your State Representative must know how to successfully argue the passage of a bill before a Committee appointed to hear its merits and on the floor of the House, where all others may either attack it or help to secure passage.

The second part of the duties center around the knowledge your State Representative has of the workings of the various departments of your State Government and knowing the people within these departments, and knowing how to secure from them the services their departments can supply your County, its Cities and the voters back home.

To be a successful State Representative, it takes a person who has experience and knows how to get his bills passed, as well as ability to secure for the voters back home, road projects, lake improvements, parks, and the other things you all want the State to provide.

Remember, You elect these men this November and on January 1st, 1961, the Session starts! Your State Representative must be ready to function immediately. The Session is for the first six months and for the balance of the eighteen months left in the term, there is no Session. There is no opportunity to learn the job before he begins his duties, therefore it takes a term and at least a Session for a man to learn his way around the Legislature and to be the most effective for the people of Columbiana County. A man who has had previous experience, seniority and ability, can do the best job for you.

All of these are good reasons why one of these two men to represent Columbiana County should be DELMAR T. O'HARA.

DEL O'HARA served two terms in the Legislature for Columbiana County, from 1951 to 1955. While serving his second term he was Chairman of the Welfare Committee and was the only State Representative from Columbiana County ever to hold a major office his second term. He introduced and had passed many bills dealing with important legislation, including the Highway Patrol, T. B., Veterans Benefits, Old Age Pensions, Prisoner Rehabilitation Bills and many others.

During each of the terms DEL O'HARA served, Columbiana County was granted increased appropriations for Guilford Lake. Zepernick Lake was acquired during his second term and he started the Highlandtown Lake project, which is now almost a reality.

O'HARA personally brought Frank Lausche, then Governor of Ohio, to Millville Hill in Salem, to see this hazard and secured his help and support to eliminate this dangerous section of Route No. 14, which later resulted in the Salem by-pass.

He led the fight for the Northwest section of the County against the Ohio General Telephone Company and helped them secure better telephone service.

O'HARA aided many Cities in Columbiana County to secure additional State aid in the form of the black topping of City streets by the State Highway Department, and helped in many other local projects, too numerous to mention.

He has experience and back ground to start in working effectively for the people of Columbiana County the day the Session starts;

He has seniority already established, which will enable him to secure Committee appointments to which no Freshman Legislator would be entitled;

He already is personally acquainted with the leaders of the Legislature;

He already is personally acquainted with the heads of the various departments of the State Government;

Council O.K.'s Road Moving

Chester City Council at a special meeting Friday evening, agreed to relocate a 20-foot road—Alpine Way—from the property of Matt Stipec of R. D. 1.

Stipec attended several meetings with Council, asking that the road be moved. It runs just inside his property and was built in the mid-1930's by WPA workers.

Stipec plans to have a bulldozer work on his property and use the dirt to fill in the new roadway. Council agreed to pay for three hours of the bulldozer cost.

The road, little traveled, will be moved about 22 feet north of its present location and will be surfaced with gravel or slag.

William E. Conklin, city solicitor, said Stipec would have been in violation of state law he had closed the right-of-way himself, since law says a road becomes permanent after 10 years use.

Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, presided, in the absence of Mayor Burton Ward.

Race Tightens As White Sox, Orioles Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The defending champion Chicago white Sox, suddenly back in business, and Baltimore's streaking Orioles have produced a virtual four-way tie for first place in the American League race—which has only a 1½-game spread from top to bottom.

With Turk Lown pitching four-hit shutout relief for 5 1-3 innings, the White Sox skidded the Detroit Tigers to their fourth straight defeat Friday night 3-1, that jumped the Sox into a tie for first with the Tigers and the New York Yankees, who were handed a third successive setback, 2-1 at Baltimore.

The Tigers, after winning their first five, the White Sox and New York have 5-4 records. The Orioles, with a five-game streak, are fourth, just .011 percentage points behind.

Cleveland's last place Indians defeated Kansas City 5-4 in the only other game scheduled in the AL. The A's, tied with Washington for fifth, are a half-game back.

In the National League, Pittsburgh was rained out at Cincinnati, but padded its lead to 1½ games as second-place San Francisco lost 10-2 at Los Angeles after giving up eight unearned runs in the fifth inning. Third-place Milwaukee defeated Philadelphia 5-3 on six innings of no-hit relief by Juan Pizarro, and the St. Louis Cardinals scored 10 runs in the eighth inning for a 16-6 breeze against Chicago's Cubs.

Roy Sievers drove in the first two runs for the White Sox against loser Frank Lary (1-1) and then scored the third. He singled the clincher home in the fifth after a triple by Nellie Fox, breaking a 1-1 tie.

Hector (Skinny) Brown, (1-0), the Gran'paw of the Orioles' staff at 35, put down the Yankees on nine hits. He lost his shutout in the fifth on a triple by Tony Kubek and a single by loser Bill Short (1-1).

Woodie Held drove in the first four Indian runs with a pair of homers off loser Don Larsen (0-2), never a winner against Cleveland in nine career decisions.

Rain Cancels Classic Golf With 2 Tied

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Bill Collins sought again today to break their tie for the $35,000 Classic golf lead after being delayed by rain.

A one-stroke advantage by Collins after nine holes of the second round was wiped out by an afternoon rain Friday.

The deluge sent both the leaders back to their first-round six-under-par 66s for today's re-start of the second 18 holes.

About half the field of 139 had completed play when the cloudburst erased the 66 which Ken Venturi, Palo Alto, Calif., had carved to gain an early 36-hole tie for the lead with Jack Fleck of Los Angeles at 137.

One stroke off the pace as the field started again today were Dave Ragan, Orlando, Fla., and Billy Maxwell, Oceanside, Calif. They opened Thursday with 67s.

Fleck and five others were grouped at 68.

Palmer, the year's leading money winner from Ligonier, Pa., was eight under par for 28 holes when stopped by the rain.

Both Fleck and Venturi took their etmporary lead before the rain. Fleck, winner of the Phoenix Open in a playoff with Collins, had a 68-69—137. Venturi, frequently a favorite here but never a winner, had a 71-66—137.

Meeting Set Tuesday For Church Softball

A meeting to organize the 1960 YMCA Church Softball League will be held Tuesday night at 8:30 in the "Y" building.

Several churches have indicated interest in the league and will enter if a sufficient number of teams can be secured.

Rain-Idled Pirates Now Ahead By 1½

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Okay, so left-handers are supposed to be a bit different from other guys. But what's this whammy Johnny Podres has on the San Francisco Giants?

They haven't beaten the Los Angeles Dodgers' sturdy southpaw since Sept. 4, 1958—and he has allowed the Giants only five earned runs in 43 2-3 innings during that span. Podres made it five straight over San Francisco Friday night, beating Sad Sam Jones as the Dodgers made off with eight unearned runs in the fifth inning for a 10-2 frolic.

That slipped the second-place Giants 1½ games behind Pittsburgh, rained out at Cincinnati, but left the Dodgers .012 percentage points behind third-place Milwaukee. The Braves defeated Philadelphia 5-3 on Juan Pizarro's six innings of no-hit relief, and the St. Louis Cardinals ripped Chicago's Cubs 16-6, scoring 10 in the eighth.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox beat Detroit 3-1, the Tigers' fourth straight loss, and gained a first-place tie with Detroit and the New York Yankees. Baltimore defeated the Yankees 2-1 and the Orioles took fourth place, .011 points behind the leaders, with their fifth straight victory. Last-place Cleveland, just 1½ games out of first, stopped Kansas City 5-4 in the only other game.

Podres, only 12-10 lifetime against the Giants after beating them for the second time this season, was trailing 2-1 going into the fifth. An error, Willie McCovey's triple (for his 10th RBI) and Felipe Alou's single counted both runs in the fourth for the Giants—their only scoring frame in 18 innings against Podres this year.

Podres' whammy got down to business in the fifth. Singles by Norm Larker and Maury Wills, and a bunt hit by Podres (who else?) loaded the bases. The Giants then chipped in with three consecutive errors before John Roseboro made the runs a little more respectable with his first major league grand slam homer.

Pizarro (1-1), a fast-balling southpaw, struck out nine and walked but two after relieving Bob Buhl in the third inning. He had to give way in the ninth when he pulled an arm muscle and walked Jim Coker. Warren Spahn came in for a perfect save, facing three men and fanning two.

The Cardinals, as if to celebrate their first .500 record (6-6) since July 15, 1958, rapped eight hits off relievers Moe Drabowsky and John Goetz in the eighth—biggest inning of the season in the majors. Bill White drove in three runs in the rally, two with a homer on his second time around.

Ernie Banks drove in all of the Cubs' runs with two homers that gave him a career total of 233 and broke Gabby Hartnett's club record of 231. Banks' first was a three-run shot that junked a four-hit shutout by Bob Miller (2-0). The other, his fifth of the year, was off reliever Frank Barnes.

Tiger Jones Wins Decision

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Old pro Ralph (Tiger) Jones sat on a low chair in his dressing room discussing his unanimous decision over young Joe DeNucci.

"He's a good boy," Jones said between bites at an orange, "but he's got a lot to learn."

Jones, who made his 43rd national television appearance in the 10-round bout with the hopeful middleweight from Newton, Mass., said he was never in any trouble and—after the first couple of rounds—had no doubt how it would turn out.

"Oh, I got a little cute in the middle rounds, when I thought I was 'way ahead on points. I ought to know better. I've lost a lot of fights like that—thinking I was too far ahead."

Jones was ahead all the way Friday night. One judge and the referee gave it to him by identical 98-95 margins. The other judge had it 98-92.

It was a match of age and experience against youth and hope. Jones, 32, has been a pro for 10 years, has fought the best and calls himself "the old warhorse." DeNucci is 20, was making his first television appearance.

Officials said 162 streams and 11 lakes have been stocked with some 300,000 trout measuring up to 10 inches. Tomlinson Run's streams were stocked this week.

The trout season ends midnight Dec. 31.

Top Challengers In Derby Tuneup

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Bally Ache and Venetian Way were set to renew their duel at Churchill Downs today in a final tuneup for the Kentucky Derby.

The colts, one-two finishers in the Florida Derby, stand now as the principal challengers to the favored Tompion in next Saturday's $125,000-added derby.

Each was to carry 122 pounds—four less than the derby impost—in today's feature, the Stepping Stone Purse. But their distance was only seven-eights of a mile compared to the 1¼-mile derby route.

Bally Ache drew jockey Bob Ussery for the prep with Venetian Way handled again by Bill Hartack.

The field includes four challengers, among them a genuine derby possibility, Eagle Admiral. The Khaled colt raced fourth in the Florida Derby and was assigned 122 pounds for the Stepping Stone.

The other three—Stephen, Divine Comedy and Sandy Flower, the latter a filly—perhaps needed an impressive showing to earn a derby ticket.

Arcaro Seeks Win In Grey Lag 'Cup

NEW YORK (AP) — The Grey Lag Handicap is one big race which has eluded jockey Eddie Arcaro, but the veteran may make the grade today aboard the Brookmeade Stable's Sword Dancer.

Sword Dancer is top weight with 126 pounds for the 17th running of the race named in honor of the Rancocas Stable's Grey Lag, a famous weight packer of the mid-1920s.

Sword Dancer's chief rival is expected to be C. T. Chenery's First Landing, champion 2-year-old of 1958 and winner of the Santa Anita and Laurel maturities this season. First Landing gets in with 124 pounds, and will be ridden by Willie Shoemaker.

With 11 starters, the race will have a gross value of $70,000 with $44,800 net to the winner.

Others entered are Polylad, Nimmer, Talent Show, Whitley, The Llangollen Farm entry of Crasher and Restless Wind, Amber Morn, King O'Turf, and Manassa Mauler.

World's Best Shotputters Square Off In Bitter Duel

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A bitter duel between three of the world's greatest shotputters today was expected to erase memories of the downpour which spoiled opening day performances in the Drake Relays.

Occasional showers were forecast, but if the sun breaks through the overcast, more than 15,000 persons probably will turn out to watch the first 1960 meeting between Parry O'Brien and Bill Nieder.

Dave Davis, who beat O'Brien last week, also is in the field. O'Brien is a two-time Olympic champion and holder of the world shot put record of 63-4. Nieder has tossed the shot 65-7. Davis has a best toss of 64-10½.

Twenty-two other finals will be completed today. Included are the pole vault, in which Oklahoma's J.D. Martin will be shooting for the world's first 16 - foot pole vault, and the AAU 440-yard dash, where Dave Mills of Purdue and Eddie Southern, former Texas runner, will challenge Glen Davis. Davis, formerly of Ohio State, holds the world record and won the event here last year.

Al Lawrence of Houston sloshed through the rain for Friday's top performance, an 8:57.4 clocking in the two-mile run. The 28-year-old Australian defeated Baylor's Bob Mellgren by 130 yards.

Michigan Squad Eyes Penn Relays Crown

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Michigan runners are going for broke today in the Penn Relays.

Coach Dan Canhan's Wolverines have an opportunity to accomplish a feat managed by only two other teams in the 66-year-old history of the Penn carnival. With a break the Big Ten power might even surpass the meet's best team performance.

Michigan won the meet's only major relay title on Friday's opening program of the two-day track and field meet—the distance medley. The Midwestern runners also turned in the best times in qualifying for the 440 and 880-yard relays. They are entered in today's sprint medley, 2 mile, 4 mile and mile relay events.

Only the Pitt Panthers of 1939, and the Michigan team of 1945, have ever won four of the meet's big relay events.

Potters Run At Bellaire

East Liverpool is among 45 teams competing in the Bellaire Relays today. Four states are represented in the record field.

The majority of the teams are from Ohio, but Pennsylvania and West Virginia are represented along with Fort Hill High School of Cumberland, Md.

Bob Mackall, East Liverpool's sprint star, and Bob Christen, hurdler, will carry the Potter hopes. Mackall has been clocked in 10 flat for the 100, which is the same time for the record at Bellaire.

Warren Harding, defending champion, is back this year, but Cleveland John Adams rates as a slight favorite in the sixth annual meet.

Race Tightens As White Sox, Orioles Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The defending champion Chicago white Sox, suddenly back in business, and Baltimore's streaking Orioles have produced a virtual four-way tie for first place in the American League race—which has only a 1½-game spread from top to bottom.

With Turk Lown pitching four-hit shutout relief for 5 1-3 innings, the White Sox skidded the Detroit Tigers to their fourth straight defeat Friday night 3-1, that jumped the Sox into a tie for first with the Tigers and the New York Yankees, who were handed a third successive setback, 2-1 at Baltimore.

The Tigers, after winning their first five, the White Sox and New York have 5-4 records. The Orioles, with a five-game streak, are fourth, just .011 percentage points behind.

Cleveland's last place Indians defeated Kansas City 5-4 in the only other game scheduled in the AL. The A's, tied with Washington for fifth, are a half-game back.

In the National League, Pittsburgh was rained out at Cincinnati, but padded its lead to 1½ games as second-place San Francisco lost 10-2 at Los Angeles after giving up eight unearned runs in the fifth inning. Third-place Milwaukee defeated Philadelphia 5-3, on six innings of no-hit relief by Juan Pizarro, and the St. Louis Cardinals scored 10 runs in the eighth inning for a 16-6 breeze against Chicago's Cubs.

Roy Sievers drove in the first two runs for the White Sox against loser Frank Lary (1-1) and then scored the third. He singled the clincher home in the fifth after a triple by Nellie Fox, breaking a 1-1 tie.

Hector (Skinny) Brown, (1-0), the Gran'paw of the Orioles' staff at 35, put down the Yankees on nine hits. He lost his shutout in the fifth on a triple by Tony Kubek and a single by loser Bill Short (1-1).

Woodie Held drove in the first four Indian runs with a pair of homers off losen Don Larsen (0-2), never a winner against Cleveland in nine career decisions.

Rain Cancels Classic Golf With 2 Tied

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Bill Collins sought again today to break their tie for the $35,000 Classic golf lead after being delayed by rain.

A one-stroke advantage by Collins after nine holes of the second round was wiped out by an afternoon rain Friday.

The deluge sent both the leaders back to their first-round six-under-par 66s for today's re-start of the second 18 holes.

About half the field of 139 had completed play when the cloudburst erased the 66 which Ken Venturi, Palo Alto, Calif., had carved to gain an early 36-hole tie for the lead with Jack Fleck of Los Angeles at 137.

One stroke off the pace as the field started again today were Dave Ragan, Orlando, Fla., and Billy Maxwell, Oceanside, Calif. They opened Thursday with 67s.

Fleck and five others were grouped at 68.

Palmer, the year's leading money winner from Ligonier, Pa., was eight under par for 28 holes when stopped by the rain.

Both Fleck and Venturi took their temporary lead before the rain. Fleck, winner of the Phoenix Open in a playoff with Collins, had a 68-69—137. Venturi, frequently a favorite here but never a winner, had a 71-66—137.

Rain-Idled Pirates Now Ahead By 1½

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Okay, so left-handers are supposed to be a bit different from other guys. But what's this whammy Johnny Podres has on the San Francisco Giants?

They haven't beaten the Los Angeles Dodgers' sturdy southpaw since Sept. 4, 1958—and he has allowed the Giants only five earned runs in 43 2-3 innings during that span. Podres made it five straight over San Francisco Friday night, beating Sad Sam Jones as the Dodgers made off with eight unearned runs in the fifth inning for a 10-2 frolic.

That slipped the second-place Giants 1½ games behind Pittsburgh, rained out at Cincinnati, but left the Dodgers .012 percentage points behind third-place Milwaukee. The Braves defeated Philadelphia 5-3 on Juan Pizarro's six innings of no-hit relief, and the St. Louis Cardinals ripped Chicago's Cubs 16-6, scoring 10 in the eighth.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox beat Detroit 3-1, the Tigers' fourth straight loss, and gained a first-place tie with Detroit and the New York Yankees. Baltimore defeated the Yankees 2-1 and the Orioles took fourth place, .011 points behind the leaders, with their fifth straight victory. Last-place Cleveland, just 1½ games out of first, stopped Kansas City 5-4 in the only other game.

Podres, only 12-10 lifetime against the Giants after beating them for the second time this season, was trailing 2-1 going into the fifth. An error, Willie McCovey's triple (for his 16th RBI) and Felipe Alou's single counted both runs in the fourth for the Giants—their only scoring frame in 18 innings against Podres this year.

Podres' whammy got down to business in the fifth. Singles by Norm Larker and Maury Wills, and a bunt hit by Podres (who else?) loaded the bases. The Giants then chipped in with three consecutive errors before John Roseboro made the runs a little more respectable with his first major league grand slam homer.

Pizarro (1-1), a fast-balling southpaw, struck out nine and walked but two after relieving Bob Buhl in the third inning. He had to give way in the ninth when he pulled an arm muscle and walked Jim Coker. Warren Spahn came in for a perfect save, facing three men and fanning two.

The Cardinals, as if to celebrate their first .500 record (6-6) since July 15, 1958, rapped eight hits off relievers Moe Drabowsky and John Goetz in the eighth—biggest inning of the season in the majors. Bill White drove in three runs in the rally, two with a homer on his second time around.

Ernie Banks drove in all of the Cubs' runs with two homers that gave him a career total of 233 and broke Gabby Hartnett's club record of 231. Banks' first was a three-run shot that junked a four-hit shutout by Bob Miller (2-0). The other, his fifth of the year, was off reliever Frank Barnes.

Tiger Jones Wins Decision

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Old pro Ralph (Tiger) Jones sat on a low chair in his dressing room discussing his unanimous decision over young Joe DeNucci.

"He's a good boy," Jones said between bites at an orange, "but he's got a lot to learn."

Jones, who made his 43rd national television appearance in the 10-round bout with the hopeful middleweight from Newton, Mass., said he was never in any trouble and—after the first couple of rounds—had no doubt how it would turn out.

"Oh, I got a little cute in the middle rounds, when I thought I was 'way ahead on points. I ought to know better. I've lost a lot of fights like that—thinking I was too far ahead."

Jones was ahead all the way Friday night. One judge and the referee gave it to him by identical 98-95 margins. The other judge had it 98-92.

It was a match of age and experience against youth and hope. Jones, 32, has been a pro for 10 years, has fought the best and calls himself "the old warhorse." DeNucci is 20, was making his first television appearance.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A bitter duel between three of the world's greatest shotputters today was expected to erase memories of the downpour which spoiled opening day performances in the Drake Relays.

Occasional showers were forecast, but if the sun breaks through the overcast, more than 15,000 persons probably will turn out to watch the first 1960 meeting between Parry O'Brien and Bill Nieder.

Dave Davis, who beat O'Brien last week, also is in the field. O'Brien is a two-time Olympic champion and holder of the world shot put record of 63-4. Nieder has tossed the shot 65-7. Davis has a best toss of 64-10½.

Twenty-two other finals will be completed today. Included are the pole vault, in which Oklahoma's J.D. Martin will be shooting for the world's first 16 - foot pole vault, and the AAU 440-yard dash, where Dave Mills of Purdue and Eddie Southern, former Texas runner, will challenge Glen Davis. Davis, formerly of Ohio State, holds the world record and won the event here last year.

Al Lawrence of Houston sloshed through the rain for Friday's top performance, an 8:57.4 clocking in the two-mile run. The 28-year-old Australian defeated Baylor's Bob Mellgren by 130 yards.

Michigan Squad Eyes Penn Relays Crown

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Michigan runners are going for broke today in the Penn Relays.

Coach Dan Canhan's Wolverines have an opportunity to accomplish a feat managed by only two other teams in the 66-year-old history of the Penn carnival. With a break the Big Ten power might even surpass the meet's best team performance.

Michigan won the meet's only major relay title on Friday's opening program of the two-day track and field meet—the distance medley. The Midwestern runners also turned in the best times in qualifying for the 440 and 880-yard relays. They are entered in today's sprint medley, 2 mile, 4 mile and mile relay events.

Only the Pitt Panthers of 1939, and the Michigan team of 1945, have ever won four of the meet's big relay events.

Potters Run At Bellaire

East Liverpool is among 45 teams competing in the Bellaire Relays today. Four states are represented in the record field.

The majority of the teams are from Ohio, but Pennsylvania and West Virginia are represented along with Fort Hill High School of Cumberland, Md.

Bob Mackall, East Liverpool's sprint star, and Bob Christen, hurdler, will carry the Potter hopes. Mackall has been clocked in 10 flat for the 100, which is the same time for the record at Bellaire.

Warren Harding, defending champion, is back this year, but Cleveland John Adams rates as a slight favorite in the sixth annual meet.

ing much-needed services for students.

The greatest part of the income from the new levies is required to grant salary increases to the teachers and other employes.

Board members say the maximum salaries paid the professional staff in East Liverpool is considerably lower than any other Ohio city of comparable size and much lower even than smaller communities in the county.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S maximum salary for a teacher with a master's degree and 12 years experience is $5,400.

In surrounding cities the maximum salaries are Struthers, $7,200; Canton, $7,000; Alliance, $6,375; Chester, Newell, Steubenville, Toronto and New Philadelphia, $6,000; Massillon, $5,975; Salem, $5,925; Leetonia, $5,750; Columbiana, $5,600, and Wellsville, $5,450. Steubenville and Toronto are contemplating increases this year, board members say.

To compare favorably with other communities, the board says it must think in terms of a maximum salary of $6,000 for teachers with master's degrees and 12 years' experience.

To reach this figure and grant increases in maximum salaries for teachers with less than a master's degree, along with smaller increases in the beginning salaries of all teachers, and to grant a raise to non-teaching personnel will require $107,500 plus an additional $10,750 in the retirement costs.

PASSAGE OF THE levies also would enable the board to increase the amount for building repairs from $30,000 at present to $47,500, the equivalent of 1 mill.

During the life of the levy, the board would have a minimum of $47,500 annually for repairs and the income could be used for no other purpose, board members point out.

The school buildings have an insurable value of $6,990,000 and the increased amount would permit the board to more adequately protect the investment.

The board also plans to increase the amount for textbooks from $12,000 to $20,000 if the levies are approved. The present budget of $12,000 is approximately $2.24 per year per child while a complete set of basic sixth grade texts costs $18.32 per child.

THE BOARD ALSO anticipates adding $5,000 to the present budget of $15,000 for educational supplies, which now averages $2.89 per child.

An additional $15,000 would be allotted for educational equipment, which board members say is "urgently needed," pointing out classroom furniture, shop equipment, science laboratory equipment, commercial laboratory equipment and other equipment for the educational program must be purchased. At present, the average per student is 93 cents.

The board says it also expects to add $5,000 to the present budget of $2,000 for library books, declaring adequate reference material is a must. The new minimum standards for Ohio elementary schools require school boards to spend $1 a year per child in elementary schools for library books.

It would require an increase of $3,200 to meet this since the present budget is for the senior and junior high school libraries.

BECAUSE NONE OF the levies would be collected until 1961, none of the proposed increases would be effective before January, members say.

In a closing statement, the board said:

"We must remember this request for additional funds is for the welfare of our most valuable possession — the boys and girls of the community. We have many excellent teachers on our staff and in order to retain them and to attract others it must be possible to grant salary increases.

"Then in order that we may offer the kind of educational program to which our children are entitled, we must have increased funds for educational supplies, educational equipment, library books and textbooks — which are the tools of good teaching.

"The outcome of this issue can be far reaching in its effect upon the educational opportunities for East Liverpool children. Educational opportunities lost during any year are lost forever — that year will not be lived again by your child."

Crisis-Ridden Italy Finally Has Government

ROME (AP)—Crisis-ridden Italy finally had a government today. It asked to stay in office only for six months, but might be doomed within six days.

Christian Democrat Fernando Tamboni was in as prime minister with the strangest government this country has had since the war.

He was a "summertime premier" pledged to keep his hands off politics and finish his work by fall.

400 View Grand March At Prom

About 400 persons viewed the grand march of the Junior-Senior Prom Friday evening at Midland Lincoln High School old gymnasium with 120 couples attending.

Leading the march, left to right, were Larry Meriage, Junior Class president, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Meriage, 1142 Ohio Ave., Miss Mary Margaret Vilsack, a sophomore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Vilsack, 201 Midland Ave.; Miss Pat Ryan, a junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ryan of Beaver R. D. 2, and Nick Vuckovich, Senior Class president, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Vuckovich, 416 Midland Ave.

"Some Enchanted Evening" was the theme of the prom and music was furnished by the Glenn Ross Orchestra of Rochester. William A. Walters, principal, and his wife attended. In charge of the event were Mrs. Carolyn Simmons, Miss Marie Milanovich and Andrew Yobuck, all three Junior Class sponsorers.

Couples afterwards attended the Midland Post-Prom Committee's party at the Steelworkers Union Hall from 1 to 5 a. m. today for special entertainment and refreshments.

Midland does not select a prom queen and king as other schools do but did name a basketball queen recently.

ation, Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers. A practicing attorney since 1935, he sought the office unsuccessfully 6 years ago.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, Democrat, is unopposed for nomination to his seventh term in Congress. The Republican candidate, also unopposed, is Atty. Walter Jay Hunston of Salem, who lost to Rep. Hays in a bid for the same post in 1954. Atty. Hunston, a World War II veteran and a former Salem city solicitor, has practiced law since 1947.

Rep. Hays has represented the district in Congress continuously since 1949. The district includes Columbiana, Belmont, Carroll, Harrison and Jefferson Counties.

The congressional district will send delegates to the GOP national convention pledged to support Vice President Richard Nixon for the presidential nomination and a Democratic delegation backing Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, Ohio's "favorite son" candidate who has said he will back Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts for the nomination.

The GOP district delegation, which named State Auditor James A. Rhodes as second choice, includes as delegates: Mrs. Letha C. Astry of Salem, 18th District woman member of the GOP State Central Committee, and Robert J. Hocker of Steubenville, Jefferson County Republican chairman.

Candidates for alternate are Tom Richards of Carrollton, Carroll County prosecuting attorney, and Mrs. Isabelle K. Chaney of Cadiz R. D. 4, Harrison County GOP chairwoman.

The district slate for the Democratic national convention includes: Rep. Hays and Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county party chairman, for delegates, and Maurice Rapport, East Liverpool businessman, and Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, Jefferson County Democratic chairman, for alternates.

There is only one race for election of Democratic and Republican men and women members of the parties' state central committees.

Dale E. Fulton of Martins Ferry, the incumbent, is opposed by Robert M. Bell of Steubenville, a steel firm employe and councilman, for GOP State Central Committeeman from the 18th District. Fulton, who was administrative assistant to former Gov. C. William O'Neill, was appointed early in January to succeed Carl Weinman of Steubenville, who became a federal judge for the Southern District of Ohio.

The other incumbent state committeemen and committeewomen are unopposed. They are Gosney, who sits on the Democratic state committee; Mrs. Astry, woman member of the GOP State Committee, and Miss Esther Pinsky of Bellaire, woman member of the Democratic State Committee. The national convention delegates and state party committeemen are named in the area which makes up the 18th Congressional District.

Ravenna Driver Cited After Lisbon Accident

A Ravenna motorist was arrested for driving while under the influence of alcohol and leaving the scene of an accident and a Columbiana youth was injured slightly in two accidents investigated Friday night by the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

James N. McConahy, 28, of Ravenna R. D. 1 was arrested for drunk driving and hit - skip after sideswiping a car driven by Donald Scott, 38, of Canton at 8 p. m. on Roue 30 about 3½ miles south of Lisbon.

McConahy failed to halt, but was stopped by patrolmen just south of Lisbon. They were alerted by Scott, who phoned the report.

McConahy will receive a hearing today before Judge Earl Spalding at East Palestine.

Archie Kleist, 17, of Columbiana suffered contusions and abrasions of the head and right arm when he lost control of his motor scooter and went off the right side of Route 154 just east of Rogers last night at 10.

Actress' Daughter Flees Home For Girls

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lana Turner's 16-year-old daughter, Cheryl, who two years ago stabbed her actress mother's hoodlum lover, escaped Friday night from a county-operated home for girls.

The statuesque, troubled teenager had been committed to the minimum security El Retiro Home for Girls six weeks ago for what her mother termed psychiatric therapy.

Cheryl and two other girls climbed over a chain-link fence and faded into the residential neighborhood near the home in the San Fernando Valley community of Sylmar.

Poll Staff Augmented

O'Hanlon said the Election Board has taken all possible steps to expedite returns, including hiring of extra personnel for precincts expected to cast heavier votes. Two extra workers are scheduled to report a half hour before the polls close in each of 45 precincts. They will aid the six regular judges and clerks to speed the count.

The 152 polling places throughout Columbiana County will open at 7:30 a. m. and close at 7:30 p. m. Daylight Saving Time, which means 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m., official state time.

Each party will nominate two for state representative, two for county commissioner and one each for sheriff, recorder, probate judge, clerk of courts, prosecuting attorney, treasurer, engineer and coroner.

9 Republicans Entered

Republicans have a field of nine seeking two nominations for commissioner and five candidates for a pair of nominations for state representatives. Democrats have a seven-way trade for the two commissioner nominations and five bidding for the state representative posts.

A precinct committeeman will be elected by each party in each of the county's 152 precincts. The precinct representatives comprise the county central committee of each party.

The wide-open GOP field for commissioner includes:

William Y. Orr, 922 Princeton Ave., an employe of the Moore Furniture Co. and a former city councilman; Clarence L. Robinson, 308 W. Washington St., Lisbon, a former commissioner; Howard L. Ketchum of Wayne Township; Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine, the incumbent; Jonathan C. Mason, 509 Maryland Ave., a veteran auctioneer and a former state senator; Hugh McPherson of North Georgetown, operator of a general store; Lorain H. Foulks of Calcutta, a custom farmer and St. Clair Township trustee; Galen H. Greenisen of Salem R. D. 3, who formerly served 8 years as commissioner, and Ford L. McQuilkin of Homeworth, operator of the McQuilkin Lumber Co.

Democrats Named

The Democratic commissioner field is comprised of: John Varsho of Lisbon R. D. 3, operator of the Vi-Jon Bar on E. 6th St.; R. Max Gard of near Lisbon, an antique shop proprietor and historian, the incumbent; Samuel J. Crawford of near West Point, a former county judge; Robert Barnett of Beloit R. D. 2, a Knox Township dairy and turkey farmer; Robert L. Faulkner of Leetonia R. D. 1; Rudy Wilk of Clark Ave., Wellsville, former owner of the Riverview Hotel and a member of his city's Civil Service Commission for 28 years, and Daniel A. McKeever of Williamsport, deputy county auditor and former county sanitarian.

Fred R. Deidrick of Wayne Township also entered for the Democratic commissioners' race, but withdrew a few days later. Frank Wilson of Wellsville, Democrat, is the hold - over commissioner. Gard is seeking his first full term, as he now is serving in an unexpired term to which he was elected in 1958.

Making GOP Bids

The Republican field for state representative is comprised of: Rep. Clarence L. (Dutch) Wetzel of Lisbon, seeking a sixth term; Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, 245 Highland Ave., Wellsville, who served two consecutive terms in the assembly from 1951 to 1955; I. J. Vorndran, 340 Green Ln., who retired a year ago after 16 years as county auditor; J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, assistant county prosecuting attorney, and Kenneth E. Bell of Columbiana, operator of a hardware and lumber business.

Because of periodic reapportionment that occurs about once in 10 years, Columbiana County will be entitled to elect two state representatives for the 1961-62 term.

Out For Representative

The Democratic candidates for representative are John H. Todd, former Lisbon mayor; Benjamin Barrett of Salem, a high school teacher and former football coach; Bernard Freeman of Columbiana, a jeweler and also a deputy in the county auditor's office; Robert Cogan of East Rochester, a construction electrican and a West Township trustee, and Samuel Sowards of Lisbon, a State Highway Department employe.

Harold D. Putt, an East End furniture store operator, also was entered for the Democratic representative race, but withdrew.

Both parties have three - way races for nomination for county recorder, the post which Mrs. Frances W. Morton of Wellsville will give up at the end of 1960. A Republican, she did not file for re-election. In all, she has been employed in the Courthouse approximately 30 years.

Recorder Candidates

The Democratic field for recorder is comprised of: Lawrence A. (Larry) Finlay, 700 Sophia St., operator of Finlay's Market and former president and secretary-treasurer of Trades and Labor Council; John E. Graham, 404 Aten Ave., Wellsville, a deputy in County Auditor Kenneth Bell's office, and Donald J. Longshore of Columbiana, an oil salesman.

Richard P. Winters of S.T. Clair Ave. Ext., business agent of Retail Clerks Local 133, also was entered for the Democratic recorder's race, but withdrew.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine, Republican, is unopposed for nomination for a second term.

5-Way Contest

The five - way Democratic field for sheriff is made up of: Albert E. Kittridge, 821 Chester Ave., safety engineer for a transportation insurance company and formerly a member of the East Liverpool police force for 14 years; Joseph McGurren of Salem; John Ansman of Salem, a meat cutter in a Youngstown market; Lloyd Bentley of Salineville R. D., a machinist at the T. K. Roofing Co. at Chester, and Merle Hardy of North Georgetown, former Knox Township constable.

Charles H. Brant, former East Palestine councilman, is unopposed for the Republican nomination for clerk of courts. Richard O. Wilson, East Liverpool job printer, had filed before the deadline, but withdrew nine days later.

4 Are Unopposed

Four Democratic office - holders are unopposed for renomination: Probate Judge Louis Tobin of St. Clair Ave.; Court Clerk Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana; Treasurer Vincent C. Judge of Lisbon and Dr. William A. Kolozsi of Salem, coroner.

Two other Republican incumbents are unopposed: Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw of Smithfield St., seeking his second term, and County Engineer Charles O. Snyder of Salem.

Democrats have two other unopposed candidates. They are John Ursu of Salem, for county engineer — first member of his party to seek the post in 24 years — and Atty. Herbert E. Arfman of Leetonia, who practices law in Salem, for prosecuting attorney.

On the GOP slate, Mrs. H. Joan Dixon of the East Liverpool Rd., near Lisbon, is unopposed for nomination for treasurer. She is a former employe of the treasurer's and auditor's offices in the Courthouse.

The GOP has no candidates for probate judge and coroner.

Poll Staff Augmented

O'Hanlon said the Election Board has taken all possible steps to expedite returns, including hiring of extra personnel for precincts expected to cast heavier votes. Two extra workers are scheduled to report a half hour before the polls close in each of 45 precincts. They will aid the six regular judges and clerks to speed the count.

The 152 polling places throughout Columbiana County will open at 7:30 a. m. and close at 7:30 p. m. Daylight Saving Time, which means 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m., official state time.

Each party will nominate two for state representative, two for county commissioner and one each for sheriff, recorder, probate judge, clerk of courts, prosecuting attorney, treasurer, engineer and coroner.

9 Republicans Entered

Republicans have a field of nine seeking two nominations for commissioner and five candidates for a pair of nominations for state representatives. Democrats have a seven-way trade for the two commissioner nominations and five bidding for the state representative posts.

A precinct committeeman will be elected by each party in each of the county's 152 precincts. The precinct representatives comprise the county central committee of each party.

The wide-open GOP field for commissioner includes:

William Y. Orr, 922 Princeton Ave., an employe of the Moore Furniture Co. and a former city councilman; Clarence L. Robinson, 308 W. Washington St., Lisbon, a former commissioner; Howard L. Ketchum of Wayne Township; Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine, the incumbent; Jonathan C. Mason, 509 Maryland Ave., a veteran auctioneer and a former state senator; Hugh McPherson of North Georgetown, operator of a general store; Lorain H. Foulks of Calcutta, a custom farmer and St. Clair Township trustee; Galen H. Greenisen of Salem R. D. 3, who formerly served 8 years as commissioner, and Ford L. McQuilkin of Homeworth, operator of the McQuilkin Lumber Co.

Democrats Named

The Democratic commissioner field is comprised of: John Varsho of Lisbon R. D. 3, operator of the Vi-Jon Bar on E. 6th St.; R. Max Gard of near Lisbon, an antique shop proprietor and historian, the incumbent; Samuel J. Crawford of near West Point, a former county judge; Robert Barnett of Beloit R. D. 2, a Knox Township dairy and turkey farmer; Robert L. Faulkner of Leetonia R. D. 1; Rudy Wilk of Clark Ave., Wellsville, former owner of the Riverview Hotel and a member of his city's Civil Service Commission for 28 years, and Daniel A. McKeever of Williamsport, deputy county auditor and former county sanitarian.

Fred R. Deidrick of Wayne Township also entered for the Democratic commissioners' race, but withdrew a few days later. Frank Wilson of Wellsville, Democrat, is the hold - over commissioner. Gard is seeking his first full term, as he now is serving in an unexpired term to which he was elected in 1958.

Making GOP Bids

The Republican field for state representative is comprised of: Rep. Clarence L. (Dutch) Wetzel of Lisbon, seeking a sixth term; Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, 245 Highland Ave., Wellsville, who served two consecutive terms in the assembly from 1951 to 1955; I. J. Vorndran, 340 Green Ln., who retired a year ago after 16 years as county auditor; J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, assistant county prosecuting attorney, and Kenneth E. Bell of Columbiana, operator of a hardware and lumber business.

Because of periodic reapportionment that occurs about once in 10 years, Columbiana County will be entitled to elect two state representatives for the 1961-62 term.

Out For Representative

The Democratic candidates for representative are John H. Todd, former Lisbon mayor; Benjamin Barrett of Salem, a high school teacher and former football coach; Bernard Freeman of Columbiana, a jeweler and also a deputy in the county auditor's office; Robert Cogan of East Rochester, a construction electrican and a West Township trustee, and Samuel Sowards of Lisbon, a State Highway Department employe.

Harold D. Putt, an East End furniture store operator, also was entered for the Democratic representative race, but withdrew.

Both parties have three - way races for nomination for county recorder, the post which Mrs. Frances W. Morton of Wellsville will give up at the end of 1960. A Republican, she did not file for re-election. In all, she has been employed in the Courthouse approximately 30 years.

The GOP slate includes: Richard G. Brian, 324 Vine St., operator of a men's clothing store and a former county commissioner; Robert W. Sample Jr., 606 McKinnon Ave., who retired at the end of 1959 after five terms in Council, and Richard T. (Dick) Mason of Lisbon, Center Township clerk.

Recorder Candidates

The Democratic field for recorder is comprised of: Lawrence A. (Larry) Finlay, 700 Sophia St., operator of Finlay's Market and former president and secretary-treasurer of Trades and Labor Council; John E. Graham, 404 Aten Ave., Wellsville, a deputy in County Auditor Kenneth Bell's office, and Donald J. Longshore of Columbiana, an oil salesman.

Richard P. Winters of S.T. Clair Ave. Ext., business agent of Retail Clerks Local 133, also was entered for the Democratic recorder's race, but withdrew.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine, Republican, is unopposed for nomination for a second term.

5-Way Contest

The five - way Democratic field for sheriff is made up of: Albert E. Kittridge, 821 Chester Ave., safety engineer for a transportation insurance company and formerly a member of the East Liverpool police force for 14 years; Joseph McGurren of Salem; John Ansman of Salem, a meat cutter in a Youngstown market; Lloyd Bentley of Salineville R. D., a machinist at the T. K. Roofing Co. at Chester, and Merle Hardy of North Georgetown, former Knox Township constable.

Charles H. Brant, former East Palestine councilman, is unopposed for the Republican nomination for clerk of courts. Richard O. Wilson, East Liverpool job printer, had filed before the deadline, but withdrew nine days later.

4 Are Unopposed

Four Democratic office - holders are unopposed for renomination: Probate Judge Louis Tobin of St. Clair Ave.; Court Clerk Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana; Treasurer Vincent C. Judge of Lisbon and Dr. William A. Kolozsi of Salem, coroner.

Two other Republican incumbents are unopposed: Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw of Smithfield St., seeking his second term, and County Engineer Charles O. Snyder of Salem.

Democrats have two other unopposed candidates. They are John Ursu of Salem, for county engineer — first member of his party to seek the post in 24 years — and Atty. Herbert E. Arfman of Leetonia, who practices law in Salem, for prosecuting attorney.

On the GOP slate, Mrs. H. Joan Dixon of the East Liverpool Rd., near Lisbon, is unopposed for nomination for treasurer. She is a former employe of the treasurer's and auditor's offices in the Courthouse.

The GOP has no candidates for probate judge and coroner.

Defect Cited In IBOP Case

Counsel for the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters filed a demurrer Friday at Lisbon, claiming a defect in the petition of dissident potters seeking an injunction against construction of the new home for the union.

The action was taken at the pretrial hearing called by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp on the petition of James Duffy and five others. They have asked an injunction against the project and an order for a vote of the trade on the proposed moving of the headquarters from East Liverpool to a site near Williamsport.

The plaintiffs were given until May 28 to file their answer to the demurrer and the IBOP then will have a right to file a reply.

After briefs of both have been filed, the matter will be assigned for hearing on the demurrers, Judge Sharp said.

Duffy's group filed petitions April 1 for a restraining order and a writ of mandamus, compeling the Brotherhood to submit the new building question to a vote of the membership.

Construction of the new $342,005 headquarters has started on Route 7, northwest of East Liverpool, on a 10-acre tract purchased by the union.

New Post Office Site To Be Sought

At a public meeting Friday night to further discuss aspects of the proposed 12th St. site for a Wellsville Post Office, it was informally agreed that every effort be made to attempt to locate a suitable site for a new building by June 5. If no definite arrangements can be made, then the 12th St. location is to be accepted.

The Postal Department has plans for remodeling the former Standard Hardware building at 12th and Main Sts. Postal authorities said no final action on the location will be made until June 5 in order to allow anyone interested time to investigate the possibility of locating a suitable site for a new building.

About 75 attended the 2-hour session held at Daw Junior High School.

The Standard Hardware building was purchased by a Cleveland firm for lease to the postal department after it is completely remodeled.

Defect Cited In IBOP Case

Counsel for the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters filed a demurrer Friday at Lisbon, claiming a defect in the petition of dissident potters seeking an injunction against construction of the new home for the union.

The action was taken at the pretrial hearing called by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp on the petition of James Duffy and five others. They have asked an injunction against the project and an order for a vote of the trade on the proposed moving of the headquarters from East Liverpool to a site near Williamsport.

The plaintiffs were given until May 28 to file their answer to the demurrer and the IBOP then will have a right to file a reply.

After briefs of both have been filed, the matter will be assigned for hearing on the demurrers, Judge Sharp said.

Duffy's group filed petitions April 1 for a restraining order and a writ of mandamus, compeling the Brotherhood to submit the new building question to a vote of the membership.

Construction of the new $342,005 headquarters has started on Route 7, northwest of East Liverpool, on a 10-acre tract purchased by the union.

New Post Office Site To Be Sought

At a public meeting Friday night to further discuss aspects of the proposed 12th St. site for a Wellsville Post Office, it was informally agreed that every effort be made to attempt to locate a suitable site for a new building by June 5. If no definite arrangements can be made, then the 12th St. location is to be accepted.

The Postal Department has plans for remodeling the former Standard Hardware building at 12th and Main Sts. Postal authorities said no final action on the location will be made until June 5 in order to allow anyone interested time to investigate the possibility of locating a suitable site for a new building.

About 75 attended the 2-hour session held at Daw Junior High School.

The Standard Hardware building was purchased by a Cleveland firm for lease to the postal department after it is completely remodeled.

No action was taken on forming a citizens' committee.

Devotions were led by Susan Wellington, who read Ps. 23. Cindy Dornick led the 4-H pledge, the Lord's Prayer and the pledge of allegiance. Mary Falconer, vice president, presided and for roll call response each member reported the progress of her project.

A team demonstration on packing a lunch was given by Victoria Faloon and Jeannette Boyd. Lunch was served by Jean Serafy, Cindy Dornick and Debbie McElroy.

The next meeting will be May 23 at the Falconer home. Members are to bring wieners and buns and a beverage will be furnished.

ASK FOR A DEMOCRATIC BALLOT

TUESDAY, MAY 3rd

POLLS OPEN 7:30 A. M. TO 7:30 P. M.

JOIN THE PARTY THAT IS ON THE MARCH

TO OUR FELLOW CITIZENS OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY:

I would like to ask you to join with us in our efforts to encourage more people to vote in the primary. The Democratic Party of Columbiana County would welcome you and we ask you to help select the men who want to represent us in the general election. These men will be your county and state officials and it is your right to have a voice in selecting them in the primary election.

Columbiana County will spend thousands of dollars to hold the primary election on the 3rd day of May, 1960. This is the true democratic way to select candidates and it is your duty to preserve this right by voting.

Ohio law provides that if you voted for a majority of Democrats in the 1958 general election, then YOU ARE ELIGIBLE TO VOTE IN THE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY ON MAY 3rd. If you did not vote in the 1958 primary and if you will be 21 years old before November 8, 1960, you are eligible to vote in the Democratic primary May 3, 1960. BE SURE TO GO TO THE POLLS ON MAY 3rd AND ASK FOR A DEMOCRATIC BALLOT.

Columbiana County is the largest county in the 18th District, and it is our duty to show a heavy Democratic vote in the primary, thus showing the State and National Party leaders that we in Columbiana County are doing our job and following our subsequent duty by voting at every opportunity.

It is your subsequent duty to take advantage of your eligibility to vote in the primary because political parties are really civic organizations. So take advantage of your right and vote in the Democratic primary. For your convenience we have printed a sample ballot which appears below this letter. The polls open at 7:30 A. M. and close at 7:30 P. M. Take advantage of your right—VOTE IN THE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY, May 3, 1960.

With best wishes,
DON R. GOSNEY, Chairman

Confessions of a Moving Man

Every year 30 million Americans change addresses; some do it with tears, others with laughs—but few without some surprise for the men who tote their stuff back and forth

By JEROME C. CIRKER

THE JOB LOOKED simple enough. This couple was making the move from an apartment to a house. But as soon as my crew started bringing in the furniture, the fireworks started. "Put the love seat in front of the fireplace," said the wife.

"Nuts!" replied the husband, "I want my lounge chair there."

And so it went. Whatever idea she had, he was against—and vice versa. We weren't enjoying this moving job one bit—unlike the trio on today's FAMILY WEEKLY cover. In fact, we figured that any minute they would head for the divorce court.

Then one of my moving men got the couple together and said, "Look, folks, is this the way you want to get started in your new home?" Immediately, they stopped bickering, relaxed, and invited us all to have a drink with them. By the time the job was done, they were standing in the middle of their new living room, his arm around her and her head on his shoulder, both of them lost in admiration of their new domain.

Strange cases like this come to be almost routine in this mad moving business my family's been in for so many years. When we opened the door of a house in New York years ago to remove its contents at public order, we were greeted by a really incredible sight: piles of newspapers and junk—battered furniture, tin cans, even hunks of automobiles—were stacked from floor to ceiling. We went about the job of removing what seemed to be the accumulated debris of a lifetime, when suddenly one of my men came upon the body of an elderly man buried under the papers.

It took us five days to remove the 50 tons of trash from this house. And for months, newspapers and magazines printed stories about its occupants—the famous Collyer brothers. For years, this pair of aged recluses—scions of a once-wealthy and prominent family—had refused to have anything to do with the outside world and had buried themselves within their cluttered mansion.

We handle the moving for a lot of well-known personalities. When we moved Steve Allen, his family, and 22 members of his company from New York to California last summer, it turned out to be an experience almost as unpredictable as Steve's show. We were all set to go when a rush call came from California to pick up some shirts that Steve had left at a laundry. In spite of this and similar problems, we enjoyed the job and found Steve to be funnier off-screen than he is on.

I understand that each year over 30 million Americans move to new addresses and that the average person moves almost a dozen times in his life. Believe me, every time it's an occasion for highly seasoned emotions. People always have mixed reactions to changes and they often reveal their deepest feelings in moving to a new home.

Not long ago, we were hired for what looked like a routine move to a small house in Pennsylvania. The woman was all packed when we arrived, but as we went to work the tears started to flow.

It turned out she was leaving her husband after 15 years of marriage, but now that she saw her home being stripped bare of all she loved, her husband's transgressions seemed small compared to a future without him. Well, it happened that one of the crewmen had a daughter who had gone through a similar experience and had decided to forgive her husband; now she was a happy housewife again, with three darling children. After he had talked with the woman awhile, she told us to bring everything back in!

That was one moving job we didn't mind losing.

ANOTHER JOB I won't soon forget involved an elderly couple who, after living in the same house for 47 years, were moving to a home for the aged. All their belongings, the cherished possessions of a lifetime, were being given to charity. And as we loaded the van, we saw them walking down the path away from their home, hand in hand, with never a backward glance.

A few years ago, a woman moving from New Jersey to Iowa wanted to take along 150 house plants, all neatly arranged in an open crate. She handed the moving man a watering can and gave him detailed instructions on how to care for them.

When he protested that he wasn't allowed to transport plants, she called him a brute, a monster, and an enemy of God's green growing things. In fact, she didn't calm down until he promised to take all the plants home with him and give them the loving care they were accustomed to.

Funny thing is that this guy, who'd never grown anything but whiskers, now has become a talented and enthusiastic gardener!

Fred Irvin shows us a pause in the day's occupation as a jolly threesome indulges in a bit of moving harmony. It's all part of a fascinating job, as you'll see in "Confessions of a Moving Man," above.

Born with physical handicaps that would have defeated most people, Dr. Anne Carlsen runs a school for disabled children where she is their heroine and hope for the future

For Hands and Feet, She Uses Courage

By THEODORE IRWIN

RECENTLY A 17-year-old boy, severely afflicted with cerebral palsy, unburdened his problems to his school superintendent, Dr. Anne Carlsen.

He dreaded a painful operation recommended by a specialist to relieve the tightness of his muscles. After ten minutes, the enveloping warmth and courage of the bright-eyed, sandy-haired woman proved irresistible.

"All right, I'll go ahead with the surgery," he said with a grin. Then, as he turned to go, he remarked, "You know, Dr. Anne, whenever I leave your office, I always feel bigger and stronger."

He barely glanced at Dr. Carlsen's arms. They are mere stumps above the elbows. Both her legs are artificial.

Dr. Anne Carlsen is an amazing five-foot-tall bundle of spirit and determination. Her life is built around the conviction that a child who is injured at birth, contracts a disabling disease, or has a crippling accident, need not forfeit the right to happiness. That conviction comes from experience. Both without forearms and legs, she has learned to lead a full and rewarding life as head of the Crippled Children's School at Jamestown, N. D.

Her own right to happiness comes chiefly from the 79 students at the school. "I guess," she admits, "they are a fair substitute for a family of my own."

Some of her "family" can't talk or are almost unintelligible. Some can't chew or swallow their food properly. Many move about in wheel chairs. There are children with uncoordinated movements who can't write and have to point to letters on a spelling board. But for all there is encouragement.

Last May, in recognition of Dr. Carlsen's triumph over her own disability, as well as her achievements with crippled youth, she was awarded the President's Trophy as "The Handicapped American of the Year."

Such honors climax a long, valiant struggle for Anne Carlsen, a struggle filled with painful ordeals and personal tragedy. She was born in Grantsburg, Wis., with both arms ending above the elbow, her right leg a dangling end, and her left leg deformed in a club foot.

The family physician prophesied, "She may become an intellectual prodigy. When nature is short in some ways, it often compensates in others."

There were several sieges in hospitals. First, the dangling end of one leg was removed. When she was nine, contractures of her knee were straightened out. At 12, Anne was fitted with artificial arms, found them heavy and cumbersome, discarded them, and has since relied on her arm stumps to "do everything." At 15, her remaining leg was amputated, so she uses artificial limbs.

Despite this, Anne was a high-spirited child. Propelling herself over the ground, she joined the other children's games. In baseball, there were special rules for her; the bases were shortened and she used a coaster wagon.

SHE AND HER four brothers were raised by her father and her older sister Clara. (Their mother died when Anne was four.) "It was my family's love that kept me going," Dr. Carlsen says. "Never once did I feel a hint that they were disappointed in me or wished I were different.

"I had one fear," she adds. "I worried that I would not be able to make myself useful. I fought against the need to depend on someone else. In our family, being on your own is taken for granted."

She will never forget what her father, a Danish-born florist, once said to her:

"Anne, two arms and two legs missing are not as important as having one good head. The essential thing is to educate yourself."

But in those days public schools were not prepared to educate crippled children. The resolute Carlsens had to persuade a state psychologist to test the eight-year-old girl and pronounce her "educable." On his recommendation, she was admitted to public school. The bright youngster taught herself to maneuver a pen and raced through two grades a year. She was ready for high school at 12. That was the year she was orphaned by the death of her father.

To spunky Anne Carlsen, it was another hard knock to overcome, but she finished high school and went on to the University of Minnesota where she made three honor societies.

Anne had always felt a strong desire to teach—especially other crippled children. She never felt her lack of limbs would be a hindrance. But in her senior year at college, the head of the counseling bureau told her that teaching was "out of the question." With so many able-bodied teachers available, Anne just wouldn't have a chance.

Bitterly frustrated, she sought other work but was continually rejected on various pretexts. For two years, she remained unemployed. "I felt that if I couldn't get the right kind of work," she recalls, "there was no point in my existence."

Then, unexpectedly, she heard of an opening for a teacher at the Crippled Children's School. After an intensive interview, the job was hers—at $25 a month and room and board. When she first saw the school, she said to herself: "This is home—this is where I belong."

She was the entire high-school faculty, teaching everything from English to history and biology. Later, she took time out to get her master's degree at Colorado State College of Education and her doctorate at the University of Minnesota. In time, Dr. Carlsen was made principal and, 10 years ago,

STOP OILY SKIN TO CHECK PIMPLES!

Don't pick, scratch, squeeze or merely "cover them up"

Doctors know that acne or pimples are caused by the germ called the acne bacillus. These germs invade overactive oil glands in the skin, cause blackheads and pus pockets; then your skin "breaks out."

What's needed is (1) to dry up the excessive oil that collects on skin; (2) to destroy acne germs on the skin, and (3) to stop itching and irritation so pimples can heal.

A doctor's formula, liquid Zemo has this effective 3-way action; also keeps skin looking cleaner!

LET'S STOP GIVING BABIES AWAY!

By JOSEPH H. REID

Executive Director, Child Welfare League of America

as told to Lester David

EVERYONE HAS HEARD about the vicious black market in baby adoptions, where human lives are bartered for prices ranging up to $10,000 and higher. Far less is known about the gray market, which is 10 times more widespread and just as potentially devastating to the lives of those involved.

What is this gray market? Here is an example:

In the Midwest, a 35-year-old woman, childless since her marriage 15 years before, adopted a little girl of 18 months who had been orphaned. The adoption was arranged by a family doctor without the help of any recognized agency.

The physician knew how much the woman longed for a child of her own. But he also knew she was suffering from a type of cancer which would be fatal in a few years! With the best intentions, he wanted to bring a little happiness into the life left to her. But soon after the baby was surrendered to his patient, she grew worse and was unable to enjoy the youngster, much less care for her.

Recently, the woman died, and her husband, his money drained by her long illness, is now left with a completely dependent four-year-old girl.

This is just one of the pathetic consequences of the gray-market adoption problem which is reaching alarming proportions in the U. S. Last year, nearly 20,000 infants and young children were given away in a similarly casual, unplanned, inexpert manner. These were children who were abandoned, born out of wedlock, or innocent victims of divorce and separation.

Gray-market adoptions are "under-the-counter" placements of babies and young children—private deals worked out by go-betweens, who may include friends, relatives, doctors, lawyers, clergymen. There is no question of willful wrongdoing, and certainly nobody profits from them financially as in black-market transactions.

Recently, the woman died, and her husband, his money drained by her long illness, is now left with a completely dependent four-year-old girl.

This is just one of the pathetic consequences of the gray-market adoption problem which is reaching alarming proportions in the U. S. Last year, nearly 20,000 infants and young children were given away in a similarly casual, unplanned, inexpert manner. These were children who were abandoned, born out of wedlock, or innocent victims of divorce and separation.

Gray-market adoptions are "under-the-counter" placements of babies and young children—private deals worked out by go-betweens, who may include friends, relatives, doctors, lawyers, clergymen. There is no question of willful wrongdoing, and certainly nobody profits from them financially as in black-market transactions.

Last year 20,000 children were adopted in casual, unplanned, sometimes ill-advised ways; needless tragedies resulted, yet this dangerous "gray market" continues to grow

But these placements hover between legality and illegality, hence the term "gray." The go-betweens rarely realize they are operating in a legal shadowland because adoption statutes are complex and differ widely from state to state. In some, any unlicensed third party who tries to arrange an adoption is guilty of a crime; in others, these deals are allowed. In still other states, courts approve private adoptions, even though the law is actually being broken, provided the mother appears before the court and gives her consent.

A report in the Yale Law Journal says this about private adoptions: "When adoptions are the product of independent placements, the blind frequently lead the blind. Good intentions are no substitute for trained and experienced personnel. The interests of the child, as well as those of the natural and adoptive parents, may be lost and unprotected in a humanitarian mist."

FROM MY OWN experience, I know this to be true. Even though the majority of independent adoptions turn out well, far too many do not. It is undoubtedly true that people who give babies to couples they hardly know, or don't know at all, are causing much heartbreak.

Just six weeks ago, for example, Mr. and Mrs. John Vasta, a Brooklyn, N. Y., couple, were facing an ordeal they had dreaded ever since they had taken a four-day-old youngster into their home and their hearts in 1957. Richard Guy, born out of wedlock to a 14-year-old girl, was never legally adopted. Last March, Mr. and Mrs. Vasta decided to dispel the gnawing fear that some day their child might be taken from them, and they instructed their lawyer to make the necessary arrangements with Richard's natural mother.

When the mother, Mrs. Amelia Malave, who had since married and been widowed, was notified of the whereabouts of her son, she said that he had been taken from her without her permission and that until she heard from the lawyer she had been unable to locate him. She demanded three-year-old Richard back and has since taken the case to court.

At this writing, the case has not been decided, but it's very possible that the Vastas will have to give up the little boy whom they have raised and loved as their own son for three years.

This suffering could have been averted if the case had been handled by a recognized adoption agency. What follows will explain why. Here, then, are the major dangers of the gray market in babies, based upon the files of the Child Welfare League of America, the experiences of licensed adoption agencies, and reports and observations of many authorities in the field:

1. A gray-market arrangement cannot protect the new parents sufficiently against future claims by the natural parents.

The Brooklyn case is not an isolated one. It happens hundreds of times, and few human experiences can be more tragic.

In many cases, natural parents win back the children they once gave up. I know a West Coast couple who sadly dismantled a crib recently and gave away a roomful of toys. Eight months after they thought they had their adopted son forever, they were ordered to give him up.

These things can happen because, in most private adoptions, the real mother knows the identity of the new parents. In states where such adoptions are permitted, the law requires the go-between to tell her where the baby is going and to whom.

Consequently, if the real mother suffers a change of heart, she can look up the new parents and demand her child. Complicated laws are involved, differing from state to state, but there are grounds on which a natural mother can win back her child even though it has been "legally" adopted and living with its new family for years.

This peril is not present in agency adoptions. Placements handled by recognized organizations protect the new parents fully. Never, under any circumstances, does the real mother know who is adopting her baby. She can never trace the child. She signs a release for adoption, and the agency is then empowered to act. After adoption, all records are sealed by law. The real mother is given only enough information to satisfy her that her baby will be in the best available home.

Equally important, the mother is helped to come to a firm decision, reducing the chance she will ever come back to demand her child. If troubled following the release of her child, she receives counseling.

2. Private adoptions increase the risk that a child-hungry couple will get a sick baby. The disappointment and rejection that may ensue can cause severe emotional problems for both the child and the new parents.

It is not uncommon for a man and wife to learn that their privately adopted child has a severe handicap. At this point, there is no turning back. Physical and mental defects sometimes do not show up for months after birth; in addition, highly trained specialists are needed to diagnose defects in apparently normal infants.

Certainly, a couple may love a baby despite his handicap and find joy in seeing him improve under their care. Unfortunately, however, there are persons who are emotionally unable to accept a handicapped child. Resentments can develop if one comes into their home, and the harm that may come to such an unloved, unwanted child is irreparable.

Agencies take every precaution to minimize these tragedies. Adoptive parents are told if a child is sick, or if he has a history of inheritable illness. Often, families accept the risks, but they are told in advance and allowed to make a considered decision.

Of course, handicaps may show up in agency-adopted children, too, but there is this important consideration: most agencies permit new parents to return children within a stated period of time, generally a year, if the adoption does not prove satisfactory.

3. The risk of giving a child to the wrong parents is infinitely greater in gray-market transactions.

In an East Coast city, a 32-year-old woman realized that her marriage to a successful manufacturer was slowly crumbling. In a desperate attempt to salvage it, she decided to adopt a baby. A child, she thought, might provide a common interest and re-establish their relationship.

Her cousin, an attorney, helped her adopt a child through a private arrangement. Six months later, however, she found the baby was not having the effect she hoped. Her marriage was too far gone to be saved by an infant. The result: she lost interest in the baby, who is now being reared in her home as an unwanted child.

Agencies, on the other hand, screen applicants carefully. Couples whose applications are accepted are thoroughly studied by professional caseworkers over a period of months. The caseworkers consider the attitudes of the couples and other members of their families toward adopted children, their talents, abilities, economic status—and the status of their marriage.

It is important to bear in mind that I am not drawing comparisons between the professional qualifications of the doctors, lawyers, and others who help arrange private adoptions, and the social workers in the licensed agencies. I am not saying that any individual social worker is more qualified to handle an adoption than a doctor or a lawyer.

I am saying, though, that no individual, acting independently, can give a natural mother, a baby, and the adoptive parents the same vital protection that an agency, with its experience and personnel, can give.

The American Academy of Pediatrics agrees. Dr. Samuel Karelitz, chairman of its committee on adoptions, says:

"In brief, adoption is an involved and highly specialized procedure which requires the knowledge and skill of trained personnel. It is unlikely that any one individual alone can successfully conduct adoption practice. Indeed, to be successful, adoption requires the efforts of a group, the social-service caseworker, the physician, the lawyer, the psychologist, the psychiatrist, occasionally the geneticist, and others."

Certainly, the agencies themselves are neither perfect nor blameless. There is room for improvement and grounds for criticism. Some adoption agencies, working far too slowly, need to streamline their operations. Others are still employing old-fashioned methods that have been outmoded by newer scientific knowledge. Still others lack the human approach so necessary in this sensitive area.

All, however, are dedicated to doing the best possible job to protect human lives and human emotions. They must not be hamstrung by well-meaning amateurs.

WHAT CAN be done to eradicate this baby giveaway and the tragic aftermaths? There is a three-point solution:

First, all would-be intermediaries should realize that inexperienced persons are not equipped to handle the delicate problem of placing children. No untrained individual would dream of performing an operation for appendicitis. Entrusting a young baby to a couple to be reared requires just as much skill and knowledge in its own field.

Second, licensed agencies must be strengthened and their services extended to persons needing their help. Every natural parent, every child, and every adoptive parent who requires guidance and assistance should be able to get it. This takes money, support, and understanding.

Third, facilities for unwed mothers should be improved and expanded. Homes, counseling agencies, and financial assistance should be available to them. No unwed mother should be forced to give up her child, as so many must, because she cannot pay medical expenses during her pregnancy and cannot support herself prior to her baby's birth.

Babies are precious commodities. When they lose their natural parents for one reason or another, the best possible replacements must be obtained for them. All of us have a stake in these unfortunate children. They must not be passed along like a piece of real estate.

A shocking blow almost devastated her shortly after she began teaching. Her sister Clara—who had been a mother to her—died of cancer. "It made me question whether life was worthwhile," she says.

But she was encouraged by the words of her pastor: "When things get rough, the Carlsens praise the Lord and work a little harder." Anne did both and found a purpose again in living.

REMEMBERING the crises of her early years, Anne Carlsen observes: "The spirit is a wonderful thing. So resilient, so hard to break. It makes us come through so much pain and disappointment." That spirit is what she tries to impart to her big family at the school. "I suppose I was born with a sunny disposition," she maintains, "or maybe smiling is just a habit with me."

Today, at 44, Dr. Carlsen is a poised, neatly groomed executive who gets around with remarkable dexterity. She drives a car with an arm cuff and other gadgets specially made for her, and is active in a dozen civic, social, church, and professional groups. Last February, she wasn't a bit fazed when Rotarians sent her on a two-month trip to Australia, where she made talks before education and rehabilitation groups.

Still not too steady on her substitute legs, Dr. Carlsen occasionally falls, recently broke a shoulder bone and ended up in a hospital for five weeks. Accidents like this don't disturb her. Once, on her way to a party, she slipped on the ice and cut her scalp; after a physician stitched her up, she went to the party as if nothing had happened.

About her physical shortcomings, Dr. Carlsen has a healthy philosophy.

"I've always thought of my disability," she says, "as one of the accidents that happen in a certain percentage of births. It just happened to me. I accept it as I do the color of my eyes, and I live with it. As I say to my youngsters, the world's great achievements are not physical but mental and spiritual."

The school Dr. Carlsen heads, rated as one of the best of its kind in the nation, is a modern, fully equipped, half-million-dollar structure at Jamestown (pop. 15,000) in the heart of a farm-trade community. Although operated by the Lutheran Hospitals and Homes Society, the school is open to any child who is too seriously handicapped to attend a public school. The students come from 16 states and Canada. Most of the school's income comes from public contributions.

The school's aim is to treat the "whole child"—mind, body, and soul. To Dr. Anne, her students are "just kids," not cases—"That's the way I longed to be regarded when I was their age." To her, nothing is more gratifying than watching a youngster change from a withdrawn and resentful child to a mature individual who can reach out to others and know that life is still good. Dr. Anne helps effect this transformation by imparting her own self-confidence.

TAKE JANE, for example, a pretty, golden-haired child. When she was six, Jane would lie awake at night crying because the braces on her withered legs were so uncomfortable. But when the night supervisor offered to unlock the braces, Jane refused. "I must learn to walk by myself!" she insisted. "Dr. Anne says I can." Jane grew up at the school. Today she is a sophomore at the University of Illinois, planning a career in mathematics.

Dr. Carlsen feels well rewarded for a lifetime of untiring work—not in the rewards of national honors or international reputation. Her rewards are the achievements of her graduates who, despite disappointments and heartbreaks in the outside world, have constantly pushed on and won places in society.

David Rife, for instance, is a research physicist with the Federal government. Irvin Nelson, paralyzed by polio, is an accounting student at the University of North Dakota. Most dramatic is Richard Johnson of Crystal, N. D., who is crippled by a spinal disease, has a malformed hand, cleft palate, poor vision, and a hearing impairment.

At 12, he was sent to a state hospital for the mentally retarded. Through Dr. Carlsen's efforts, however, he was educated and went on to own a typewriter sales and repair business, drive an automobile, and become active in community affairs.

The triumphs of her students are far more important to Dr. Carlsen than her own. To her, they are her reason for life and, perhaps, a reason for her own handicaps. A quotation from Tolstoy kept under the glass top of her desk sums up this dedication:

"Life is a place of service, and in that service one has to suffer a great deal that is hard to bear but more often to experience a great deal of joy. But that joy can be real only if people look upon their life as a service, and have a definite object in life outside of themselves and their personal happiness."

His voice has turned this ex-athlete into a big business; yet, at 24, he's too worried about the "precarious" future even to think about marriage

THE MILLION-DOLLAR WOES OF JOHNNY MATHIS

By ROBERT PEER

RECENTLY, Johnny Mathis' manager, Helen Noga, sat her client down with a battery of attorneys and accountants to fill him in on the various Mathis enterprises.

Mrs. Noga was pleased when she noticed that for the first time Johnny was taking an active interest in his finances; he was figuring with a pencil and paper as the conference progressed. Finally, his lawyer asked, "Johnny, do you have any idea how much money you're worth?"

"Oh, about $50,000, I guess," replied Mathis.

"You're worth more than $1 million," the attorney informed him.

The curious manager took another look at Johnny's "figures." They weren't calculations after all. Johnny had been working on a song arrangement throughout the get-together.

This doesn't mean Johnny's casual about success or money. Just the opposite. He's perpetually worried that the bonanza won't last, and his every waking moment is devoted to working for a more golden future. The way things are going for him now, it's hard to understand why this youthful overnight success should view every tomorrow as a personal enemy.

More than 20,000 Johnny Mathis records are sold every day. His growing legion of teen-age fans has carried a dozen tunes over the million mark.

Johnny has adult appeal, too, as indicated by his album sales. More than three-quarters of a million albums have been sold, an all-time sales mark, according to Columbia Records. He's in big demand for TV shows, too, and appears on Frances Langford's NBC special this evening (Sunday).

Moreover, Johnny has branched out to where he now owns five music publishing companies and two apartment houses in Manhattan. "And there's a lot of other jazz I can't think of right now," he adds.

Johnny's success results from three ingredients:

—His own talent—an exciting, pleasing voice.

—His constant self-analysis.

—Helen Noga, the manager who has guided his career since 1955.

Johnny gives Connie Cox, a San Francisco voice teacher, most of the credit for developing his talent. He always had an unusual voice with a phenomenal range for a male singer. His father, Clement Mathis, recognized this when Johnny was 13 and took him to Miss Cox.

"With seven children to support," Johnny recalls, "Dad couldn't afford to pay for lessons on his salary as a chauffeur and maintenance man, even with Mom helping out as a cook and maid."

But Miss Cox, whom Johnny calls a "wonderfully generous woman," recognized the great potential in him and taught him without fee for seven years.

Johnny's first public fame came not as a singer but as a high jumper in high school, and again at San Francisco State College. One of the best all-around athletes in the city high-school system, Johnny also was an all-city basketball player.

He paid for his two years of college not with athletic scholarships, however, but with his voice. "I picked up a number of scholarships, most of them sponsored by women's clubs," Johnny recalls. "They were for about $50 each, but together they paid for tuition, books, and other essentials."

Johnny had his mind set on becoming a physical-education instructor until the night in 1955 when he went to a San Francisco night club owned by Helen and George Noga and was asked to sing.

"When I heard him," says Helen, "I told my husband, 'This boy is going to be bigger than Nat King Cole. All he needs is a push.'" Helen has provided that push, parlaying him from $75 a week into a million-dollar-a-year property.

Yet, at 24, Johnny is worried that it won't last. "I've already been at the top longer than my premonition told me I would," he declares. That's why Johnny has insured his future with an annuity that will pay him $1 million when he's 40. And his publishing companies are potential Mathis gold mines. As Johnny explains it, "If I hadn't gone into music publishing, I'd only be collecting on my records. Now when somebody brings me a song and I record it, I sometimes publish it, too. Then I get the record royalties plus royalties from my own publishing houses."

JOHNNY'S preoccupation with self-analysis is another form of insurance against a cloudy future.

When I went to see him in his Spanish-type Beverly Hills mansion, for example, I found him listening intently to records—Mathis records.

He was hearing himself, not to please his ego, he told me, but to evaluate his own performance.

"I listen to myself to analyze my voice, my technique, and myself. When I'm not analyzing my own records, I do the same with other singers I like." This practice, Johnny feels, keeps him in the form necessary to stay on top longer.

Johnny says he was "sort of engaged" once but has no plans now for getting married. "Plenty of girls try to get next to me," Johnny says, "and some of them manage to meet me and we become good friends. But that's all, so far.

"Besides," says Johnny, the worrier, "I feel it's better for my career if I don't get married right away. When you deal with the public, you're always in a precarious position."

The way things are going for him now, it's hard to understand why this youthful overnight success should view every tomorrow as a personal enemy.

More than 20,000 Johnny Mathis records are sold every day. His growing legion of teen-age fans has carried a dozen tunes over the million mark.

Johnny has adult appeal, too, as indicated by his album sales. More than three-quarters of a million albums have been sold, an all-time sales mark, according to Columbia Records. He's in big demand for TV shows, too, and appears on Frances Langford's NBC special this evening (Sunday).

Moreover, Johnny has branched out to where he now owns five music publishing companies and two apartment houses in Manhattan. "And there's a lot of other jazz I can't think of right now," he adds.

Johnny's success results from three ingredients:

—His own talent—an exciting, pleasing voice.

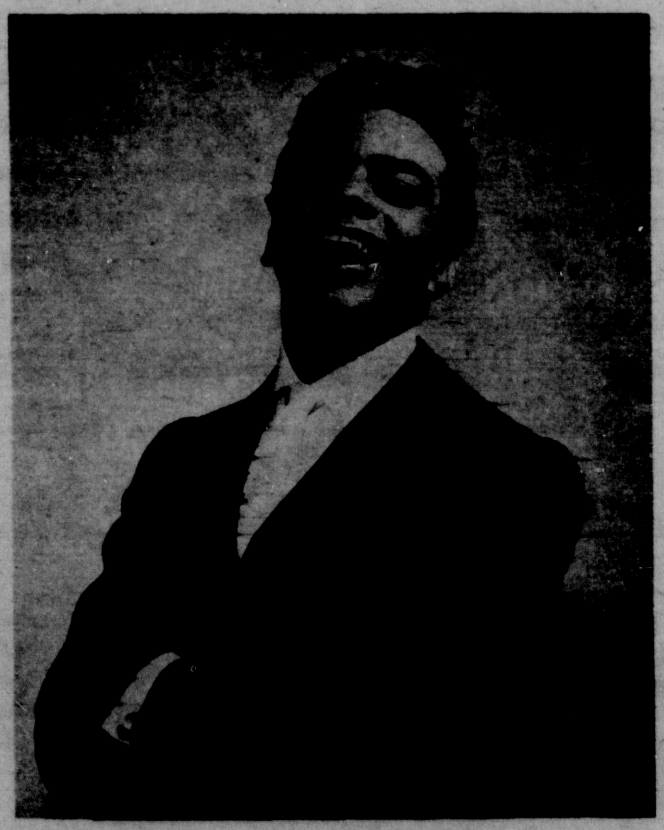
—His constant self-analysis.

—Helen Noga, the manager who has guided his career since 1955.

Johnny gives Connie Cox, a San Francisco voice teacher, most of the credit for developing his talent. He always had an unusual voice with a phenomenal range for a male singer. His father, Clement Mathis, recognized this when Johnny was 13 and took him to Miss Cox.

"With seven children to support," Johnny recalls, "Dad couldn't afford to pay for lessons on his salary as a chauffeur and maintenance man, even with Mom helping out as a cook and maid."

But Miss Cox, whom Johnny calls a "wonderfully generous woman," recognized the great potential in him and taught him without fee for seven years.



Johnny's first public fame came not as a singer but as a high jumper in high school, and again at San Francisco State College. One of the best all-around athletes in the city high-school system, Johnny also was an all-city basketball player.

He paid for his two years of college not with athletic scholarships, however, but with his voice. "I picked up a number of scholarships, most of them sponsored by women's clubs," Johnny recalls. "They were for about $50 each, but together they paid for tuition, books, and other essentials."

Johnny had his mind set on becoming a physical-education instructor until the night in 1955 when he went to a San Francisco night club owned by Helen and George Noga and was asked to sing.

"When I heard him," says Helen, "I told my husband, 'This boy is going to be bigger than Nat King Cole. All he needs is a push.'" Helen has provided that push, parlaying him from $75 a week into a million-dollar-a-year property.

Yet, at 24, Johnny is worried that it won't last. "I've already been at the top longer than my premonition told me I would," he declares. That's why Johnny has insured his future with an annuity that will pay him $1 million when he's 40. And his publishing companies are potential Mathis gold mines. As Johnny explains it, "If I hadn't gone into music publishing, I'd only be collecting on my records. Now when somebody brings me a song and I record it, I sometimes publish it, too. Then I get the record royalties plus royalties from my own publishing houses."

JOHNNY'S preoccupation with self-analysis is another form of insurance against a cloudy future.

When I went to see him in his Spanish-type Beverly Hills mansion, for example, I found him listening intently to records—Mathis records.

He was hearing himself, not to please his ego, he told me, but to evaluate his own performance.

"I listen to myself to analyze my voice, my technique, and myself. When I'm not analyzing my own records, I do the same with other singers I like." This practice, Johnny feels, keeps him in the form necessary to stay on top longer.

Johnny says he was "sort of engaged" once but has no plans now for getting married. "Plenty of girls try to get next to me," Johnny says, "and some of them manage to meet me and we become good friends. But that's all, so far.

"Besides," says Johnny, the worrier, "I feel it's better for my career if I don't get married right away. When you deal with the public, you're always in a precarious position."

How to pick a power mower

There is a big difference in power mowers that goes past the price tag, beyond the pretty paint. Certainly price is important. That's why some mowers are made to sell for less. But where value is concerned, even high price is no guarantee. How do you know you're getting your money's worth? Don't settle for sales talks. Find out for yourself fast, with the six-step test for power mower buyers.

Take any power mower. Look it over. Lift it. Start it. Listen to it. Then look at LAWN-BOY. Measured by any yardstick, this is the mower built for value! The nationally known, nationally serviced brand. The one that sets a standard others would like to live up to. This time, get more mower for your money! Go LAWN-BOY! Wide selection for every kind of lawn, starting at $59.95.

SIX-STEP TEST OF A MODERN POWER MOWER

Standard to judge any power mower by—before you buy!

1. TILT the mower, as you would to clean it or to mow along a hillside. Oil should not leak out or spill. A drip-free LAWN-BOY mower keeps oil in the engine for full-time lubrication.

2. FLEX the blade. It should be pre-stressed, under tension. A long, whippy blade cuts unevenly, can cause crankshaft damage. LAWN-BOY uses a short, hard shaft, with bronze main bearings.

3. TAP blade housing. It should be solid as a rock . . . yet lightweight. Thin steel stamped housings will vibrate, can spring out of shape. LAWN-BOY light, strong, durable aluminum housings never do.

4. LIFT the mower. It should be light, easy to push or turn. Not too big, not too heavy. LAWN-BOY is aluminum-light, nimble and comfortable to use. Even the handle is designed to fit you better.

5. START the engine. Several times. Starting should be easy, fast, sure. LAWN-BOY is famous for fast starting. Hottest ignition spark on any mower delivers years of easy one-pull starting.

6. LISTEN to it. Does it roar? Or spit fumes a step ahead of you? It shouldn't. LAWN-BOY has the biggest mufflers of any power mower. And exhaust is under the mower, away from you.

AT LAST! Complete automatic lawn care in one modern mower! New LAWN-BOY Grass Catcher rakes and sweeps as it mows!

Ask for a free demonstration on your own lawn today. Look in the "Yellow Pages" under Lawn Mowers for your nearest LAWN-BOY Dealer, or write LAWN-BOY direct.

for Mother

. . . are flowers, thoughtful favors, and fine foods which will please her feminine whims on her day next Sunday. A pretty party buffet of a colorful soup served in her most handsome tureen, an elegant tray of cold turkey and ham slices, a lazy Susan heaped with crisp iced relishes, a basket of assorted rolls and biscuits, and a special dessert is a meal to charm the honored lady of the day.

Luscious Pineapple Dessert

TO PREPARE: 45 MIN. TO BAKE CAKE: 50 MIN.
TO CHILL: 1 HR.

- 1½ cups sifted cake flour
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 6 egg yolks
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup unsweetened pineapple juice
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 6 egg whites (about ⅔ cup)
- ½ cup sugar

1. Sift together the flour, ½ cup sugar, baking powder, and salt. Set aside.

2. Beat egg yolks and ½ cup sugar until thick and lemon-colored. Add fruit juices gradually, beating well after each addition.

3. Folding in until just blended after each addition, add dry ingredients in fourths.

4. Using clean beater, beat egg whites until frothy. Add ½ cup sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Beat until rounded peaks are formed and egg whites do not slide when bowl is partially inverted. Spread egg-yolk mixture over beaten egg whites and gently fold together until blended. Turn batter into an ungreased 10-in. tubed pan. Cut through batter with knife or spatula to break large air bubbles.

5. Bake at 325° F about 50 min., or until cake surface springs back when lightly touched.

6. Remove from oven. Immediately invert pan on tubed end and let cake hang in pan until completely cooled. When cake is completely cooled, cut around tube with paring knife to loosen cake. Loosen sides with spatula and gently remove cake. Using a long, thin, sharp knife, slice cake crosswise into two layers.

7. Spoon one-half of the Pineapple-Orange Filling over cut surfaces of each cake layer. Chill 1 hr.

8. Fill and frost cake layers with Pineapple Cream Frosting. Chill about 1 hr. before serving. Decorate top with halved slices of pineapple.

About 12 servings

For Pineapple-Orange Filling (about 4 cups)—Drain one 1-lb., 4-oz. can crushed pineapple; reserve ¾ cup pineapple sirup. Set drained pineapple (about 1¼ cups) aside to use for frosting. Combine pineapple sirup and ¾ cup orange juice. Beat 2 egg whites until frothy. Add ¼ cup sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until stiff peaks are formed. Gradually add juice mixture to beaten egg whites, blending well.

For Pineapple Cream Frosting (about 5 cups)—Sprinkle 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin over 2 tablespoons cold water. Let stand about 5 min. to soften. Dissolve softened gelatin completely over very hot water. Stir dissolved gelatin into reserved crushed pineapple. Add 3 tablespoons sugar to 1½ cups chilled whipping cream. Beat cream until it stands in soft peaks when beater is slowly lifted upright. Fold pineapple-gelatin mixture into whipped cream.

for Mother

. . . are flowers, thoughtful favors, and fine foods which will please her feminine whims on her day next Sunday. A pretty party buffet of a colorful soup served in her most handsome tureen, an elegant tray of cold turkey and ham slices, a lazy Susan heaped with crisp iced relishes, a basket of assorted rolls and biscuits, and a special dessert is a meal to charm the honored lady of the day.

Luscious Pineapple Dessert

TO PREPARE: 45 MIN. TO BAKE CAKE: 50 MIN.
TO CHILL: 1 HR.

- 1½ cups sifted cake flour
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 6 egg yolks
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup unsweetened pineapple juice
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 6 egg whites (about ⅔ cup)
- ½ cup sugar

1. Sift together the flour, ½ cup sugar, baking powder, and salt. Set aside.

2. Beat egg yolks and ½ cup sugar until thick and lemon-colored. Add fruit juices gradually, beating well after each addition.

3. Folding in until just blended after each addition, add dry ingredients in fourths.

4. Using clean beater, beat egg whites until frothy. Add ½ cup sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Beat until rounded peaks are formed and egg whites do not slide when bowl is partially inverted. Spread egg-yolk mixture over beaten egg whites and gently fold together until blended. Turn batter into an ungreased 10-in. tubed pan. Cut through batter with knife or spatula to break large air bubbles.

5. Bake at 325° F about 50 min., or until cake surface springs back when lightly touched.

6. Remove from oven. Immediately invert pan on tubed end and let cake hang in pan until completely cooled. When cake is completely cooled, cut around tube with paring knife to loosen cake. Loosen sides with spatula and gently remove cake. Using a long, thin, sharp knife, slice cake crosswise into two layers.

7. Spoon one-half of the Pineapple-Orange Filling over cut surfaces of each cake layer. Chill 1 hr.

8. Fill and frost cake layers with Pineapple Cream Frosting. Chill about 1 hr. before serving. Decorate top with halved slices of pineapple.

About 12 servings

For Pineapple-Orange Filling (about 4 cups)—Drain one 1-lb., 4-oz. can crushed pineapple; reserve ¾ cup pineapple sirup. Set drained pineapple (about 1¼ cups) aside to use for frosting. Combine pineapple sirup and ¾ cup orange juice. Beat 2 egg whites until frothy. Add ¼ cup sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until stiff peaks are formed. Gradually add juice mixture to beaten egg whites, blending well.

For Pineapple Cream Frosting (about 5 cups)—Sprinkle 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin over 2 tablespoons cold water. Let stand about 5 min. to soften. Dissolve softened gelatin completely over very hot water. Stir dissolved gelatin into reserved crushed pineapple. Add 3 tablespoons sugar to 1½ cups chilled whipping cream. Beat cream until it stands in soft peaks when beater is slowly lifted upright. Fold pineapple-gelatin mixture into whipped cream.

"Life Is a Cinch by the Inch"

This year's recipient of the President's Trophy as "Handicapped American of the Year," to be presented next Thursday, is Dwight D. Guilfoil, Jr., of Arlington Heights, Ill. Like Dr. Anne Carlsen, he has earned his right to the trophy, not only by overcoming his own disability—he is confined to a wheel chair—but by helping others like himself.

Guilfoil, a 37-year-old father of seven, was stricken with polio and spinal meningitis while serving as an Air Force photographer in World War II. In 1950, with several other physically handicapped persons, he founded the Paraplegics Manufacturing Company, Inc. Today, as its president, he employs more than 100 paraplegics who assemble mechanical, electrical, and electronic parts.

The motto of this remarkable young executive speaks for him:

"Life by the yard is hard, but it's a cinch by the inch."

VITAMINS

Hudson Vitamin Products proudly acknowledges the unsolicited mention received in "Remedies and Rackets," a new book by James Cook,* exposing the truth about patent medicine practices. Hudson stands out as one of the true money-saving sources for vitamins, in a book that pulls no punches in revealing startling facts in frank, authoritative reporting.

Perhaps one of the most shocking revelations, in the chapter titled "Vitamins and Voodoo," deals with the extremely wide variance of Vitamin and Vitamin-Mineral combination prices.

We reprint the following paragraphs by special permission:

"Actually, any particular vitamin bottled under one label is, for all practical and therapeutic purposes, the same as it is when bottled under another label. As a matter of fact, most of the vitamin concentrates consumed in our country are produced by only a few companies.

"The list of ingredients in a vitamin compound is one thing the consumer can almost always depend upon to be correct. Any company which fails to label the bottle with the exact formula and amount (or unit strength) of each ingredient risks a seizure by the Food and Drug Administration.

"Bearing that in mind it is enlightening to pick up a few vitamin catalogs and compare the prices charged by different companies for the same vitamin compounds."

These three paragraphs—only part of the complete vitamin story—hold the key to sound vitamin buying habits. The Hudson Vitamin Catalog points up these price differences.

Hudson Vitamin Products has been serving doctors and nurses for over 25 years and now you, too, can purchase your Vitamins DIRECT from Hudson at savings up to 50% and more. You'll find huge dollar savings on Vitamins, Vitamin-Mineral combinations and food supplements in our Free Vitamin Catalog.

Here are two typical examples of Hudson Savings: a very popular multi-vitamin that is taken once-a-day, regularly sells for about $3.10 per 100...the Hudson formula sells for only $1.50 per 100...here's another—a well known high potency B complex formula with Vitamin C and minerals nationally advertised at $5.95 per hundred...only $2.10 DIRECT, through the Hudson Catalog.

These are only two examples that prove you can save money ... many, many dollars. If you have never received our FREE Vitamin Catalog – you at least owe it to yourself to check and compare. Family Weekly sent its own correspondent to England for this on-the-spot story of the commoner who becomes Prince Charming with his marriage to Princess Meg next Friday

A STORYBOOK ROMANCE will culminate next Friday in the marriage of Britain's Princess Margaret to Antony Armstrong-Jones, the first commoner accepted into the British royal family in 500 years. (The last was Owen Tudor, who married the widow of Henry V.)

Until his engagement, Mr. Armstrong-Jones was as unknown to the average newspaper reader as the long-departed Owen Tudor. And today, nearly three months after he became Prince Charming, Tony is still little more to the general public than a very lucky young man with a hyphenated name.

Partly, this is the result of customary British reserve, accentuated in this case by an unwillingness to give out any "personal" news about Princess Margaret's husband-to-be. As one of Tony's close friends put it, "Anything connected with the royal family has to be protected."

Nevertheless, through the influence of Princess Margaret's aide, Maj. John Griffin; Tony's former girl friend, Jacqueline Chan; his uncle, Oliver Messel; and a number of friends and acquaintances of both the Princess and Tony, I've managed to get a good picture of the Queen's future brother-in-law.

It is easy to see why no one had an inkling of the romance, although the British press had reported elaborately on every one of the Princess' previous suitors since her first date. While Tony had been around her often for almost four years, he was written off simply as "that photographer chap." He never sat near Margaret at official functions, and even after they became secretly engaged last October, he continued playing the role of unofficial photographer to the royal family.

An incident on the night he proposed to Margaret indicates how little he was counted in the royal marital sweepstakes.

When he arrived by taxi at Clarence House, home of the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret, he was surprised to find the sidewalk crowded with dozens of photographers. If he tried to dash off in the taxi, he reasoned, the newsmen would become suspicious, so he turned to face the battery of upraised cameras.

But nobody wasted any film on Tony. After all, he was just another photographer. They had come to get a picture of the Princess' rumored new boy friend—not one of their own breed.

Nevertheless, one of them nearly stumbled on the truth when he wanted to know why Tony hadn't brought his camera. Tony hastily explained that his assistant was to meet him with his equipment, then rushed to a nearby public phone, supposedly to find out what had delayed him.

Actually, he called Princess Margaret to explain his predicament. Recalling he had requested to see her on a matter of great importance, the Princess arranged a secret rendezvous at a friend's house. It was there that Tony proposed.

THE SUCCESSFUL suitor is blue-eyed, slender, suave, and just slightly taller than Princess Margaret. She is barely five feet. He is five feet, two inches, without his elevated shoes. He is 30—five months older than Margaret.

Tony never served in the armed forces because of a slight limp which resulted from a polio attack when he was a boy. It left him with a stiffened leg that still bothers him occasionally. It also explains his reluctance to partake in Princess Margaret's favorite pastime—dancing.

For lack of any other particular interest, Tony took up professional photography after an undistinguished term at Cambridge. While his early work was heavily subsidized by relatives and friends, his talent showed through before long. As he became fashionable, Britain's notables quickly flocked to his studio.

His big break came when he took the 21st-birthday picture of the Duke of Kent. This opened the door for him as one of the unofficial court photographers of the royal family.

Tony was now in the social swim. He attended most of the lavish balls and parties of the season—sometimes as a guest, usually as a photographer, often as both.

Although he saw Princess Margaret on some of these occasions, he wasn't formally introduced to her until the early spring of last year.

The Princess had invited a few friends to an informal party at Clarence House one night. At the last moment, a girl friend's escort fell ill, and she asked Princess Margaret if Tony would be an acceptable substitute for him. The Princess agreed.

It was not a very auspicious beginning, however.

Tony's main contribution was to sit on—and shatter—a new long-playing record which the Princess had had flown from the United States!

To make up for his clumsiness, Tony phoned a New York music shop and had a replacement flown over on the first available plane. Within 24 hours, Tony sent the record to Clarence House, together with a note of apology.

Delighted by the gesture, and recalling his obvious regret and embarrassment, Princess Margaret decided to put him at ease by inviting him to another get-together at her home. It was on that occasion that they found out how much they liked the same things, particularly the world of theater and arts.

Nevertheless, there was little at first to set Tony apart from her other beaus. Suitors swarmed around Margaret like bees to honey, but at that time she had eyes for only one man, RAF hero Peter Townsend, whose love she later renounced because he had been divorced.

Meanwhile, Tony was busy with an exotic Trinidad-born Chinese actress, Jacqueline Chan, who is presently playing a "Yum-Yum" girl on both the London stage and in Paramount's film version of "The World of Suzie Wong." When they vacationed together in Switzerland some months ago, there was speculation of an impending marriage, but Jackie now refuses even to discuss him.

Margaret and Tony, in time, found their acquaintanceship deepening. In Tony, Margaret found many characteristics she liked. He has a lot of charm and was able to rekindle in her the gaiety that all but died after the breakup of her romance with Townsend. Tony is at ease in anyone's company, including the royal family's, and he is willing to take second place, which is important because Margaret, as a royal princess, must always take first place at official functions—and also because she is domineering by nature.

WHILE BRITISH public opinion has been in favor of the union, some disappointments have been expressed. One source even claimed that it was the Princess who proposed to Tony. This person tabbed Tony an opportunist, unfit for the position of Princess Margaret's husband. Critics say that neither Tony's upbringing, social position, nor manners qualified him for the step he is about to take.

While he hadn't been titled as this was written, there is little doubt that he will get a title soon, probably a dukedom. After all, Queen Elizabeth's sister can hardly be known as "Her Royal Highness, Princess Margaret, Mrs. Antony Charles Robert Armstrong-Jones," and their children can hardly grow up as plain Joneses.

Several mansions have already been discussed as their permanent residence, and Margaret's annual allowance after her marriage will rise from 6,000 pounds (about $18,000) to 9,000 pounds (about $27,000).

Without doubt, Antony Armstrong-Jones will go down in history as one of the most fortunate young men in the British Empire since Owen Tudor—whose descendants included five British sovereigns.

WHAT MAKES ONE HOUSE IN A NEIGHBORHOOD THE PLACE EVERYONE LOVES TO GO?

Everyone knows one house where people love to go. Every child in the neighborhood seems to gravitate to it from the time he can toddle. Friends drop in for a moment and find themselves staying for hours. Everyone feels welcome and leaves stimulated by the invariably interesting conversation. It is sometimes a big rambling place and sometimes a tiny apartment, but it is always a happy house—and its atmosphere rubs off on everyone who enters it.

What gives such a house its life and warmth? It is, of course, the personalities of the family who live in it—active, alert, informed parents and children whose enthusiasm and joy of life spill over on everyone they meet. Characteristically, they are interested in each other, in other people, and in every subject under the sun. Books are as much a part of their home as the beds, tables, and chairs—and the most essential of their books is usually the Encyclopaedia Britannica. It is to Britannica they turn during family discussions, for homework, for information on history, politics, hobbies . . . to answer almost any question fully and authoritatively. And like all families who develop the habit of "looking it up in Britannica," their minds are constantly enriched by knowledge unlikely to be obtained in any other way.

The Encyclopaedia Britannica contains the accumulated knowledge of the world since creation. It is a heritage of priceless value . . . a heritage every thinking parent will want to give his children.
